Scheurer shuns party politics

61st District Democratic State Rep. candidate wants to break out of the box.

By Brenda Balin
Staff Reporter

William Scheurer, running for Illinois State Representative in the 61st District (covering parts of Antioch, Lake Villa, Lindenhurst, Fox Lake, Gurnee and Wadsworth), is not one for following party lines, although he is running under the Democratic Party banner.

In an e-mail interview, he spelled out his feelings about party politics.

"I don't dislike party politics," he wrote. "I just don't care about them. Most people don't. We care about what works. The only thing I dislike is the lock that the two major parties have on ballot access and participation in our democratic process."

The issue of partisan politics is the third plank in his platform, which calls for election reform, "to remove the two-party lock on ballot access and open up our democracy to wider participation."

In listing his three highest priorities, Scheurer gave first place to public education finance reform, "to shift the burden from local property taxes (which are too high in our district), to full and equal statewide funding."

He also cited a need for private health insurance reform, "to extend major medical coverage to every Illinois resident."

Scheurer explained his decision to run as a Democrat in a largely Republican area.

"I certainly could not run as a Republican at this time, given its current national leadership and identity," he wrote. "The Republican Party has completely abandoned any pretense of claim to fiscal responsibility or true conservative values, and is now driven by a deeply divisive and ideological agenda."

"I would not run as an independent because we live in a two-party system today. That is the reality we

Village investigates Route 83 recapture legitimacy

By Julie Murphy
Staff Reporter

Trustee Scott Pierce called for a Nov. 1 deadline for a finalized report to determine whether property owners along Route 83, south of Route 173, are entitled to recapture fees for sewer lines constructed some years ago.

The motion came after Trustee Barbara Porch asked whether the funds would be sent based on a memo the largest of the payments to construct the sewer line had been found in the village's financial records. Mayor Taso Maravelas said, "Not yet," when she asked if the payments to property owners would be forthcoming. She then asked, "Why are we penalizing these people?"

Village attorney Bob Long said an ordinance approved in 1999 "is not accurate" and that it raises questions that require further review.

After the regular meeting of the board of directors, he said, "This deal for (Route) 83 doesn't make any sense. It's not when, it's whether these property owners are owed recapture fees."

Long said the ordinance states that a number of property owners were all paid as of 1999. In researching the payments, he said, "One property owner paid in 2002, three years later. If landowners are really entitled to the recapture, we want proof that they paid."

Long said the village has asked the property owners for documentation such as cancelled checks or bank statements for proof of payment. He said the village did find the $183,000 wire transfer for the Beelow property that was made in 2000.

"I've got a duty to guard residents' money," Long said. "If these payments didn't all come in, and the village actually paid for the construction of the sewer line, then these people aren't entitled to recapture."

At the board meeting, Maravelas said only one property owner had presented cancelled checks as proof of payment.

Long said the village deals with relatively large amounts of money all the time, but individuals do not.

"This is complicated and there are lots of people involved," Long said. "It should be easy for the individuals to track this, but it's much more difficult for the village, especially if the payment came in two different checks or off of two different accounts."

Long said he was inclined to error to the side of caution because one of the payments was made well after the drafting of the ordinance that said everyone had already paid.

At the meeting Trustee Mary Turner said, "It's not like it didn't happen. We owe that money, and were holding that money in safekeeping."

Pierce made a motion that was unanimously approved to find the answer by the Nov. 1 board meeting.

"I'm asking all village employees to start turning and burning to find the answer."

Grass Lake's resources running dry

By Julie Murphy
Staff Reporter

For Grass Lake School District 36, the story is the same that it has been for the past five years: the district desperately needs an Educational Fund tax increase if it is to survive.

"The last time we were looking for a 56 cents increase, and now we're looking for 60 cents," said Superintendent James Beveridge. "The cost of educating students keeps increasing. If this doesn't get approved, we'll have no choice but to continue deficit spending."

Currently, at the maximum rate, educational taxes extendible are about $1.5 million. This would increase to just over $2 million if the referendum is approved.

Beveridge said, "We're being low-key about things this time around. Everybody knows what the situation is. Voters will come out because of the presidential election."

The district has had some positives in the past year with the ShareFest group of churches rehabilitating the "little school house," the original school built in 1900.

"This has really been a great thing," Beveridge said. "The $200,000 project didn't cost the district one penny, but now we have a kindergarten class in there as well as a new SEDOL (Special Education District of Lake County) class with one teacher and two aides serving about 75 students."

Beveridge said he plans to retire at the end of the school year, and is especially hopeful that the referendum will be approved for that reason.

"That will be the only thing I will feel bad about, if this is not approved before I retire," he said. "I'd like to leave the district in a little better shape than it is in right now."

Beveridge said that five years ago, before there was such an imbalance between what the district was collecting and what it was spending, the district was ranked highest in the area for social studies and science.

He said, "We're still offering a good education, but I'd like to see the programs elevated back to where they once were."

Beveridge said the district is running out of resources to keep the school operational.

"I'll keep looking and doing what I can," he said. "We're running out of options, though."

Test smoke alarms

The Antioch Fire Department in conjunction with the National Fire Prevention Association is highlighting the importance of smoke detectors as part of Fire Prevention Week.

Chief Dennis Volling said, "Fires can spread through a home rapidly, and in some cases, individuals may have as little as two minutes to escape to safety once the alarm sounds." He said upon hearing the alarm, those inside the home should exit and regroup a safe distance away to ensure everyone made it outside safely.

Reportedly, since smoke alarms were introduced in the '70s, the home fire death rate has been reduced by one-half. Despite this, a large number of homes are without working smoke detectors.

Tips for smoke alarm installation and maintenance are as follows: install at least one smoke alarm on the entry level of the home and outside each separate sleeping area; mount alarms high on the walls or on the ceiling; test alarms once a month following the manufacturers' instructions; replace batteries when the alarm chirps, or change the batteries when clocks are changed in the spring and fall; and replace smoke alarms after 10 years, even those that are hard-wired or sold with long-life batteries.

For more information, call the Antioch Fire Department at 847-395-5511.

The College of Lake County Softball Team is sponsoring a 15-family garage sale Oct. 14-17 at 995 Victoria St.

Coach Sue Garcia and assistant coach John Cox said the money raised would help defray the cost of the annual spring trip to Florida for the 2005 Women's Softball Team. They said the trip is essential in helping the individual players become a team, as players come from nine different high schools.

The coaches said that six starters are returning from last year. The season finished at the state tournament with a final record of 30-18, a third-place finish.

The sale will run from 8 a.m.-dusk on all four days.

Fred the pumpkin, located at the Antioch branch of the Bank of Waukegan (Route 59 and Grass Lake Road), is helping to fight cancer by letting visitors guess his weight for $1. The proceeds, 100 percent of them, will be donated to the American Cancer Society through the next Relay for Life event in Antioch.

The person with the closest guess as to Fred's weight will bring him home on Oct. 22.

Halloween Howl promises ghastly good time

By Julie Murphy
Staff Reporter

Antioch's downtown will be transformed into a web of haunted walkways and horrors as the village sponsors its tenth Halloween Howl on Oct. 22-23. Events will be taking place off of Main, Lake and Orchard streets, and Toft Avenue.

"I've been involved with Halloween Howl since the beginning, and this is really one of my favorite events of the year," said Billie Horton, special events coordinator.

Events will take place on Friday from 4:30-8:30 p.m. and on Saturday from noon-6 p.m. for children under 10 years old. There will be Happy Haunted Graveyard, Happy Ghosts and Smiling Spirits.

Events for older goblins will take place on Friday from 6-10 p.m. and on Saturday from 1-6 p.m. There will be the Mummy's Tomb and the House of Terror. On Friday night only the truly brave can participate in the Haunted Trail Ride.

Features and activities for ghouls and boys of all ages include visits to the Witches' Kitchen to buy treats and goodies to raise money for the Antioch Upper Grade PTO. Happy Hay Rides are being sponsored by Antioch True Value/Just Ask Rental.

Other family entertainment includes Happy Ghosts sponsored by the Antioch Cheerleaders Association, the Safety Zone sponsored by the Antioch Fire Department and Freaky Fortunes sponsored by Boy Scout Troop 191.

If that weren't enough, Smile Pretty is a photo booth where photos will be taken with monsters for $1.

Horton said, "The Catacomb Chamber is also new this year. It's a scary thing, but everyone can see it."

Also new this year is The Spider Web with games and prizes for the younger set and sponsored by the Kiwanis Club of Antioch. Antioch Upper Grade School's Kiwanis Builders Club is having a scarecrow contest from noon-1:30 p.m. in front of the band shell.

Horton said scarecrows can be entered that are fully complete, or the parts can be assembled on the spot. "All the clothes and parts would have to be brought, but we can supply the stuffing," she said.

The cost to enter the scarecrow contest is $3, and it affords the cash prizes that go back to the winners.

The pumpkin contest will be held on Friday. Carved and decorated pumpkins are to be brought to 414 Lake St. between 4:30-7:30 p.m. Judging will be held at 8 p.m. There will be a costume contest at 6:30 p.m. on Saturday at the Brook Memorial Entertainment Center.

Prizes for both contests will be awarded in the age categories of 0-6, 7-12, and 13 and up.

It's only fitting that Dracula's Cave located in the Community Building at 884 Main St. will be the site of a blood drive sponsored by the First National Bank-Employee Owned. The drive will run Oct. 22 from 5-9 p.m. and on Saturday, Oct. 23 from 2-5 p.m.

In keeping with the Halloween Howl theme, and will have scary decorations and ghoulishly good treats. There will be a coloring contest and other activities to keep children occupied who are waiting for their parents to give blood.

Though donors are welcome on a walk-in basis, appointments can be made by calling Kathy Nixon at 847-838-2265, ext. 325.

Slurp noodles, support Boy Scouts

By Julie Murphy
Staff Reporter

Boy Scout Troop 92 is hosting its 43rd annual spaghetti dinner on Sunday, Oct. 17 at the Loyal Order of Moose Lodge 525. Noodle slurping will take place between noon-7 p.m. either at the lodge, or take-out dinners are available.

Last year the troop served up about 1,200 dinners. "We always hope more people come," said committee member and advancement chairman Linda Veach. "We're on target to serve about the same amount this year."

The dinner is a major fundraiser for the scout troop, and $6.50 buys an all-you-can-eat meal. Children under the age of 5 years old eat for free.

There will be drawings for prizes throughout the day. Door prizes are given as part of the dinner ticket. Mini-raffles run throughout the day, and participants must be present.

Main raffle is at 7 p.m. The tickets are $1 each or six for $5.

Troop 92's 30 active members meet weekly at the Scout House in Antioch, and go to a variety of different campsites monthly. Proceeds from this fundraiser support those endeavors.

Veach said, "It really is helpful. The money raised here helps the boys so they don't always have to come up with extra money on their own."

In addition to the fun activities, the troop takes part in many community service projects.

The scouts have been maintaining 50 wood duck boxes at the Chain O'Lakes State Park since 1980. Troop 92 also assists the Antioch Rotary Club with its pork chop dinner and helps the Antioch Lion's Club and the Antioch Rescue Squad with the annual chicken barbecue and auction.

According to Veach, the Loyal Order of Moose Lodge 525 has sponsored the scout troop for more than 45 years. Throughout the year, the troop gives back to its sponsor by helping with Moose Lodge projects.

The Moose Lodge is located on west Rte. 173 in Antioch. Tickets are available at the door.

Rocktoberfest equals affordable concert

On the heels of Antioch's first Octoberfest is PM&L Theatre's first Rocktoberfest. Scheduled for Saturday, Oct. 16 at 8 p.m., the concert promises an evening of "favorite baby boomer music" at a reasonable price, and without having to fight any traffic to get there.

Crow's Feet perform two hours of classic, acoustic rock covering songs made popular by Fleetwood Mac, Neil Young, The Eagles, James Taylor, Van Morrison and Sheryl Crow among others. Publicity director Betty Smouse said there would be a "smidgen of country, blues and the occasional electric guitar lick thrown in for good measure."

John Haderlein, of Libertyville, will perform a 15-minute, standup comedy routine before Crow's Feet takes the stage.

Donna Abear, Brandy Abear, Kevin Gibbons, Don Mahar, Karl Heilgeist and Jeff Brookover, six veteran musicians and singers from Lake County and southern Wisconsin, make up the band. Smouse said, "Fans of the band say that standout harmonies and a great song list are just two reasons to hear them play."

Tickets are $11 and the box office will be open from 11 a.m.-2 p.m. and from 6:30 p.m. until show time on Saturday. PM&L Theatre is located at 877 Main St.

Tickets can be purchased over the phone with a credit card by calling 847-395-3055. Box office hours on Thursday is 5:30-7:30 p.m.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Guard the First Amendment

Dear citizens of Antioch,

Election campaigns are underway in Antioch. I would like to remind those who are running for office that it is not about "I" or "me" or "he or she," it is about "we."

"We the People of the United States in Order to form a more perfect Union..." These words are taken from the preamble of the Constitution of the United States written over 200 years ago. The Constitution is the foundation upon which our democracy is built and should be the standard lived up to by those elected.

Another important part of the Constitution ensures our rights to certain freedoms. The First Amendment states: Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; or abridging the freedom of speech, or of the press, or the right of the people peaceably to assemble, and to petition the Government for a redress of grievances. (Abridging means to curtail, lessen or to diminish.)

To the guardians of the First Amendment, those who write the stories, report the facts, give an opinion, when there are those of us to fearful, to them I would like to say, thank you and keep up the good work.

"If the freedom of speech is taken away then dumb and silent we may be led, like sheep to the slaughter." - George Washington

Respectfully,

Paul Green
Antioch

Stop throwing money at ghosts

Dear citizens,

This is in response to recent events like citizens addressing the board with their dismay that the village is not concerned over $3 million missing and the most recent letter from the mayor indicating, and I quote, some of the village board members seem hesitant to go back into our financial history.

Nothing could be further from the truth.

This board, when asked, has given the go ahead for audits to audit auditors, we have authorized a $25K expenditure for a one year audit that has now increased to well over $200K and is not finished yet.

No one, I repeat, no one, has come to this village board with any documentation, or with any hard evidence to even show this board that the books are off by $2,955,212. I am not saying it does not exist; I would just like to see it.

If our finance director, Trisha Steele, would like an audit of further years past, she should come to the board and request such an audit just like she does for additional help or equipment. This board has been very supportive of the needs of all of our departments, but as of yet, no one has come before this board with a request and a motion for an audit, the reasons we need it, and the cost of such an audit.

Talking with the "Chicago Tribune" about $3 million missing, a letter in the community calendar, or political friends of the mayor coming before this board will not find a deficit in our accounting. FACTS brought before this board, a recommendation from our finance director and the cost of such a project is the proper way and the most fiscally responsible way to accomplish this task.

If we are to look into the past, I do not object. I would certainly like to get our present financial situation current so we can move ahead.

We should be more concerned with this administration's accounting irregularities than those of the past. This administration has been misappropriating park impact fees and spending these fees on other things that are unauthorized by law.

The parks director, the park board and I have been questioning this for over three years and it has gone on deaf ears. I believe there could be over $300K misspent that belongs to the park fund.

Let's be financially responsible in this administration first. To keep throwing good money at ghosts of the past and not cleaning up our own house is not financially responsible at this time.

Sincerely,

Dorothy Larson

face, and must work within it to get anything done."

Scheurer indicated that party loyalty marks a major difference between himself and his opponent, incumbent JoAnn Osmond (R-Antioch).

"JoAnn Osmond is a wonderful person, and a good public servant," he said. "The biggest difference between us is that she is a committed Republican, and will be expected to follow the party line in her voting and priorities. I will be more independent, able to choose what makes sense, and work with others in both parties."

He stressed the issue of unopposed candidates, a common experience in Lake County politics.

"It is unhealthy for our democracy to have any candidate run unopposed, no matter how dominant that party may be in an area," he said. "My motivating issues and main priorities have to do with increasing participation in our democracy and reducing the negative influence of partisanship in our political process. There are no bad people, only bad ideas."

Scheurer, a resident of Lindenhurst, has lived in the district for 26 years.

He ran for the Democratic nomination for Congress against Melissa Bean this year, and lost with 23 percent of the vote.

He has been an active participant in PADS (homeless shelter), National Lawyers Guild (legal observer), Not in Our Name (peace organization) and MFSO (military families peace group).

Born in 1950, he holds a B.A. in religious studies and a J.D. in Law.

He has been married to Randi Scheurer for 34 years, and has four grown children.

He currently works as a writer/publisher.

After School Coalition hosting third meeting

Group looking for support, resources

By Jeff Zachary, Laura Jastram, Steve Peterson and Ginny Skweres

Staff Reporters

The Lake County after School Summit is a coalition of community leaders dedicated to increasing access to quality after-school and youth development programs in Lake County based on each community's needs and resources.

The coalition is co-chaired by Mundelein Police Chief Ray Rose and State Rep. Kathy Ryg (D-Vernon Hills), and consists of elected officials, chiefs of police, park district directors, community organizations and educators.

The coalition hosted a kick-off breakfast on Feb. 23 that brought 250 local policymakers together to highlight the need for quality after-school programs and then hosted a day-long workshop on April 14 to explore options for improving and expanding after-school programs.

And now the coalition has scheduled a networking breakfast for Thursday, Oct. 21 at 8 a.m. at the Crowne Plaza in Mundelein.

"One of the reasons we started this is that it's clear that a lot of kids are getting into trouble between the hours of 3 to 6 p.m. Not only do we have to be concerned about those kids who are getting into trouble but the other kids who become their victims," Rose said.

Ryg said she is already beginning to see an improvement in after-school programs.

"Although we can't take full credit for it, since we had our first meetings there have been two new teen centers open up,

The Illinois Picture

1.4 million Illinois children have working parents

Only 20% of waking hours are spent in school

41% of Illinois 8th graders are home alone 10 or more hours a week

Hours after school are risky for kids from all types of families

And they have been linked to cooperative efforts. One in Park City and one in Round Lake Beach," she said.

Round Lake Park-Hainesville Police Chief Bruce Johnson is a member of the coalition.

"The Lake County After School Coalition is exactly what communities need in Lake County," Johnson said. "It is an umbrella organization that is striving to bring effective and comprehensive programs and desperately needed services to our communities. The coalition recognizes that although each community in Lake County is unique in its needs and abilities to provide services, we will be far more effective in delivering services and obtaining funding if we work together as a whole in partnership," Johnson said.

"In evaluating competing demands for public and private services, I can not think of a more appropriate place to focus our attention and energies. Our children need quality and effective after school programs now more than ever. Our communities do experience spikes in juvenile crime during the after school hours when many children are without supervision. This is when our children are most vulnerable to incidents of alcohol, drug, gang and mischievous behavior. This is true for all school age children who are not directly supervised," Johnson said.

According to Johnson, the greater Round Lake area is exceptionally well prepared to receive, deliver and evaluate services to its community because there is a comprehensive mechanism already in place reaching most of the public and private stakeholders.

The mechanism Johnson is talking about is called BEST (Bringing Everyone's Strengths Together), which, over the past several years, has been very successful in acquiring grants that have directly benefited Round Lake school-age kids. Much of the credit for these grants is owed to a partnership with NICASA, the Round Lake Schools and the Round Lake Area Park District, which is mainly responsible for starting the Teen Center. Central Baptist Family Services and Big Brothers and Big Sisters are also included.

"One of our goals is to provide communities and young people with the resources necessary for them to learn and thrive," Rose said.

Percent of Violent Juvenile Crime Occurring Each Hour

Source: Sickmund M., Snyder H.M., Poe-Yamagata E., "Juvenile Offenders and Victims: 1997 Update on Violence," National Center for Juvenile Justice, (Washington, DC: Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention) which was based on data compiled by the F.B.I.'s National Incident-Based Reporting System.

Ryg agreed with Rose.

"This is not about daycare or extended childcare. It's really about opportunities for personal development for the kids," she said.

Ryg said that currently communities are missing opportunities to teach youth life-building skills between the hours that schools let out and their parents get home from work.

A good example of a community caring about its children is Grayslake, where local businesspeople and residents are working to establish their own Teen Center.

Joyce Campbell, who has been leading the cause, said as of June 1, 2004 they had $20.01 in their account, and since then have raised over $20,000 for the center.

Since June, volunteers have been working hard to raise money to reach their $180,000 goal to purchase a building and remodel it to their standards, Campbell said.

The key is to have a place for kids to go to interact in a safe environment, she said. Most families in Grayslake are two-income families so when kids are hanging out at someone's house after school, chances are there is not a parent there.

"We are not there to look over their shoulders, but we want to give them a place that's safe," Campbell said. "We want a place where they can put their feet on the tables, chat with their friends and do their homework, or not do their homework."

She said it seems "slow going," but really they are making progress. Everyday Campbell said she gets questions from excited kids who want to know when the center will be open.

To raise money, Campbell has been meeting with local businesspeople looking for them to contribute pledges to the center and the response has been excellent. Also, teen center volunteers sold nachos at Grayslake Summer Days and having been selling entertainment books through the summer.

On Nov. 4, a fashion show fund-raiser is being held at Country Squire in Grayslake with hopes of raising $10,000 for the Teen Center. $10,000 is the goal to raise for each month.

Campbell said she has been working closely with the public service practicum course at Grayslake High School to raise awareness and funds for the center. Recently the students held two car washes where they learned about business and raised money for the center.

"Their first question afterwards was 'what can we do next,'" she said.

The timeline to open the doors of the center is 18 months from last June. Campbell said they are on track to this goal.

Ryg and Rose said they are interested in getting more businesses and faith based organizations into the After School Coalition.

The coalition hopes to include as many resources as available throughout the county. So far, none of the religious organizations have taken an active role, but the leadership of the coalition hopes that will change, and interfaith clergy will become involved.

"We are reaching out to the faith communities and hope to use their expertise," Rose said.

Some examples of quality after school programs can be found in Island Lake and Wauconda.

Karen Luebbers is director of the CLUB program in Island Lake, offering before and after school sessions for kindergarten to sixth graders.

"We normally have 40-45 kids, but they don't all come at the same time. Morning is quiet time and in the afternoon they have homework, project or snack time," Luebbers said.

The CLUB program is offered at Cotton Creek School or at the Island Lake Village Hall on school holidays. The format has been in existence for at least 10 years.

The Wauconda Park District has been running an after school program in Wauconda for years.

For more information on the After School Coalition call Ryg at 847-680-5909.

Blood drive becomes part of Halloween Howl

There's plenty of time to sign up for the first annual blood drive to become part of Antioch's Halloween Howl.

Sponsored by the First National Bank-Employee Owned (FNBO), it's only fitting that the drive will take place at Dracula's Cave located in the Community Building at 884 Main St. on Oct. 22 from 5-9 p.m. and on Saturday, Oct. 23 from 2-5 p.m.

The blood drive will be in keeping with the Halloween Howl theme, and will have scary decorations and ghoulishly good treats. There will be a coloring contest and other activities to keep children occupied who are waiting for their parents to give blood.

Though donors are welcome on a walk-in basis, appointments can be made through Kathy Nixon, FNBO activities coordinator at 847-662-2265.

Donors need to be at least 17 years old (16 year olds may donate with written parental consent), weigh a minimum of 110 pounds, and in good health. After donating one unit of blood, the average, healthy person replenishes the liquid portion of his or her blood supply in 24 hours. Volunteers can donate blood once every eight weeks.

Kiwanis hold Tuesday meetings

Antioch Kiwanis meet on the first and third Tuesday of each month at the Double Eagle Restaurant on Route 59 and Lake Street at noon for a one-hour meeting.

Kiwanis is an international service organization that strives to meet the needs of its communities and address world issues by "serving the children of the world."

For more information, call 847-838-6500 or 847-395-7385.

Interactive toddler class taking registration

By Julie Murphy

Staff Reporter

Time for Me Two, offered through the Antioch Parks and Recreation Department, is accepting registration for its second session that is scheduled to begin Nov. 12.

"This class is a unique experience between a parent or guardian and a 2- or 3-year-old child," said Laurie Stahl, director. "We have a new instructor, Karen Meyer, and she is looking forward to introducing fresh new ideas to the program as well as ideas from past years that have made this class a favorite."

Stahl said children experience age-appropriate activities in motor skills development, language, music, art and social/play time.

Meyer said, "I continually look for new books and songs to keep things fresh, though there are no plans to drastically change the class."

Time for Me Two runs one day a week, on Friday, from 9-10:30 a.m. at the Parks Department building located at 806 Holbek Drive.

Most sessions are eight weeks and cost $60 per session. There is one session that runs only six weeks at a cost of $45.

"One of the side benefits is that this class is a great way for mothers with children in the same age group to meet one another," Stahl said.

A parent or other significant caregiver, such as a nanny or grandparent, must attend the class with the child. Classes are limited to 10 children and filled on a first-come, first-served basis.

Meyer said, "I'm really looking forward to working with kids and their parents. It will be nice to get to know the families of Antioch."

Meyer is also a Camp Crayon teacher.

For more information, call the parks office at 847-395-2160.

High school receives ExxonMobil grant

Antioch Community High School received a $500 grant from the ExxonMobil Educational Alliance program to support the school's exploratory science program.

Olson Oil Company, owner of the Antioch Mobil station, worked with school officials to secure the grant. The grant is one of 4,000 available to schools across the country.

Grants are made possible by funding from the ExxonMobil Corporation. Olson Oil Company met stringent eligibility criteria before applying for and being awarded this grant.

The ExxonMobil Educational Alliance program is designed to provide Exxon and Mobil retailers with an opportunity to invest in the future of their communities through educational grants to neighborhood schools.

OCTOBER IS BREAST CANCER AWARENESS MONTH

can make all the difference*

At the Vista Imaging Center, we believe your mammogram should be as thorough as possible. Early detection of breast cancer is the key to higher survival rates, better prognosis and less traumatic treatment options. That's why we use ImageChecker® on every mammogram we perform.

ImageChecker® assists radiologists by highlighting suspicious areas on the film for a more detailed "second look". Use of the ImageChecker® could result in the earlier detection of up to 23.4% of the cancers currently detected with screening mammography in those women who had a prior screening mammogram 9-24 months earlier (FDA-approved claim).

Call 847-249-3505 for more information

GREATS bring it

Members of the Chicago Blues Reunion Band grew up and learned to play together in the city's legendary blues scene, and later helped shape the sound of modern music. This Saturday night, they will perform locally the songs and music they helped bring to the world.

The seven-piece band performs with Corky Siegel at the Mainstage Theater at the College of Lake County's Grayslake Campus on Oct. 16. Tickets are $28 for the general public, and $25 for CLC students and seniors.

Bridging the gap between their Chicago sound and outside influences, the reunion band will play a mixture of their own individual songs and classic blues standards. Among others, the group features Chicago-area products such as Electric Flag singer Nick Gravenites, Canned Heat guitarist Harvey Mandel and percussionist Gary Mallaber, who recently finished his ninth recording project with Bruce Springsteen.

Having jammed and sat-in on each other's live performances since the 1960s, the players share a natural chemistry and camaraderie on-stage, said Barry Goldberg, who plays piano and B-3 organ for the band. "It seems to always work, and we look at each other and know exactly what we're doing."

The group members experienced a time together that marked a turning point in their lives and popular music, said Siegel, one of the world's top harmonica players. "Now it's 40 years later and we get to hang out."

Growing up in a north side apartment in the 1950s, Goldberg found a station at the end of the dial that played Chicago blues music that captured his imagination. He eventually found "other oddities" who shared his passion, including guitarist Mike Bloomfield.

The two friends decided to test their musical abilities at the highest stage, and one night summoned the courage to break unspoken racial guidelines and visit a west side bar to perform with blues legend Howlin' Wolf. Cautioned by Bloomfield to look straight ahead as they entered the venue, Goldberg met the amused veteran, who drew laughter by remarking, "There's a little white boy in the house."

Impressed by their enthusiasm, Wolf allowed the couple to perform in his set, and as Goldberg and Bloomfield took the stage, "you could hear a pin." But as the musicians launched into "Killing Floor," the color divide vanished and the audience dug their sound.

"They could've shot us," concedes Goldberg, but "I guess they sensed we had a passion for the music."

He went on to perform in city clubs with several other blues masters, including Muddy Waters, who he calls "the most beautiful man ever."

Goldberg himself made history at the Newport Folk Festival in 1965, where, alongside Bob Dylan, he helped bring electric folk-rock into the musical landscape with a controversial set.

He later formed the Goldberg/Miller Blues Band with famed guitarist Steve Miller, and played on Mitch Ryder and the Detroit Wheels studio performance of "Devil with a Blue Dress."

Before splitting, Goldberg and Miller played frequently at Big John's, where Siegel and guitarist Jim Schwall later took over the residency in the 1960s. Growing up at a time of cultural and racial division, Siegel said the blues represented the "idea of freedom" for which he was looking.

"We saw so much injustice, so much of a contrast between what we were told and what was actually happening," he said. "We felt there was a whole group of people that were being persecuted, and I think there was a natural tendency to want to join that group of people."

PETS CORNER

Speckles

Sweet, shy

Speckles is in Save-A-Pet's Kid Care program, and would be happy to find a home with a child. "He loves to play ball," said kennel staffer Joe Moore. He said Speckles, who has both black and brown spots, came from a shelter in Missouri that closed. Speckles is between 2-3 years old, and is believed to have lived on a farm before going to the first shelter.

Play date

Chicklet, a 1-year-old light calico, is looking for a play date. Save-A-Pet's feline friend Sabrina Luchek said this energetic kitty plays well with older children and is very sweet. "She's in good health, and will make a nice pet for someone," she said.

Save-A-Pet is located at 31664 N. Fairfield Road, Grayslake. It's closed on Tuesday, open 1-5 p.m. on Monday, Wednesday and Friday, 1-8 p.m. on Thursday and 11 a.m.-6 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday. For more information, call 847-740-7788 or go to www.save-a-pet-il.org.

Correction:

In the Oct. 8 edition, a picture of a black toy poodle named Denzel (Denz) ran on this page under "Adoption corner." The Walsh family of Ingleside just wanted to show off their very cute dog, and has no intention of adopting him out. Lakeland Media apologizes for any confusion.

Octoberfest wiener is...

 A TREE

The Village of Antioch hosted its first ever Octoberfest, a true family-oriented event where the dogs could participate in nearly as many events as their human family members. At the German dog parade and costume contest, nearly all the dogs were wieners (of the Dachshund variety) and all of them were winners.

Antioch's queens, Miss Holly Feric, Junior Miss Madison Erway and Little Miss Amanda England, awarded prizes to the decked out dogs within a number of categories.

Oscar, a red dachshund owned by Alzira Pflug, of Antioch, took the prize for being most heroic. Rommel, a black and tan dachshund owned by Carolyn Rickard, of Lake Villa, won for being most cultural. Pete, also a black and tan dachshund, owned by Karla Harbison, of Antioch, had the most creative costume and literally came dressed as a wiener.

Jester, a 4-month-old boxer, owned by Kathy Lonergan, of Antioch, was the best behaved. Bruno, a min-pin owned by Lori Davis, of Lake Villa, wasn't feeling quite as bold as his name and this puppy took the prize for fighting off his nerves. Jackson, a longhaired dachshund owned by Doris Hoffie, of Palatine, had a lot to say and won for being most barkative.

Later in the day, Oscar, won the "Running of the Wieners" race in the age category of "frankfurter" (1-5 years old). Peaches, owned by Tanya Petrucha, of Gilberts, won in the "little smokies" category (under 1 year old). Baby, owned by Ken Long, of Beach Park, won in the "senior sausages" category (over 5 years old).

Hundreds of people gathered to watch the three heats and 43 total canine competitors. Trophies were awarded to the top competitors as well as cash prizes.

Questions for readers

Today I am thinking about you readers.

How are you doing? Are you happy with your life? Are you setting positive goals and reaching them?

If you have children are you teaching them to be honest, moral and decent citizens? Are you spending a lot of time with them?

Do you know what they are doing between the time school lets out and the time you get home from work? Do you have your priorities straight?

If the Bears and Packers are playing on the television at the same time your child has a soccer game at the park—which one are you watching?

And how are you treating your spouse? Are you being tender, caring, romantic and putting him or her ahead of yourself? Or are you saving that stuff for the person sitting next to you at work, who you would really like to have an affair with?

If you have teenagers, are you teaching them about sex and that there are consequences for their behavior? Or are you just letting them run wild because even if they mess up—an abortion can always solve their problems?

Are you volunteering in the community trying to help the less fortunate? Or when you get home from work, do you just lay on the couch and tune out the world?

Are you healthy? Do you exercise? Do you pray and go to church regularly? Or are you just living the way you want to and not thinking about the future?

How are you feeling physically, spiritually, emotionally and intellectually? Are you happy or sad? Are you taking one a day vitamins or anti-depressant pills? Are you drinking lots of water? Or are you guzzling gallons of beer?

Do you think that there is a meaning to life?

Do you believe that someday you might have to stand before an all-powerful God and give an accounting for every word you have spoken and every deed that you have done? And what do you think God's reaction will be?

Will God say that you did a good job of feeding the hungry, clothing the naked, giving shelter to the homeless and visiting those in prison? And will God thank you for standing up for the rights of unborn babies to be born?

Or will he look at you with sadness and remind you that you really did know right from wrong.

Yeah, today is one month past my 50th birthday? And I am thinking about you readers, and I am praying for no more abortions. And I am praying that all babies get to reach their 50th birthday.

And to my favorite reader—thanks mom—for not aborting me.

Cutting a frightening figure this Halloween

I'll be cutting quite a figure in honor of my unemployed family and friends. As the clock nears midnight on the Presidential Election, I'm haunting the neighborhood as President Bush.

I've found a plethora of Asian made, "American" political T-shirts, buttons and other doodads on the web. But I'm worried my George Bush mask or "RIGHT IS RIGHT" campaign button are the end result of outsourcing U.S. jobs. On the other hand, I can take comfort that Asia is a big supporter of the "Red White and Blue"—by financing our growing $400 billion budget deficit. The Institute for International Economics describes the U.S. as "the world's largest debtor country." In 2003, "we had $28 billion of exports to China, but $152 billion of imports, for a deficit (trade) balance of $124 billion".

But we won't go into economic complexities here, or I'll be accused of disseminating egghead points of view that don't fit into a pat, thirty-second campaign ad. I'll get straight to the point—President Bush, no matter how you spin the numbers, the job market is STILL in the tank.

As noted in published reports, "Bush could be the first president since Herbert Hoover to end a term with fewer jobs than when he took office." "In speeches, the president stresses the 1.5 million jobs that have been created. But to the 2.7 million people who lost their jobs in the downturn, many in swing states, it's been a tough sell."

In addition, the Bush administration recommends retraining workers who lose their jobs to outsourcing. To that Charles Murdock, former dean of Loyola Law School, responds, "a funny thing happened on the way to a Utopia driven by free trade. American companies began outsourcing high-tech jobs too, the very jobs to which those who were laid off were supposed to aspire."

Finally, the most telling figures: Mary Lockhart White, Executive Director of the Community Action Partnership of Lake County, writes in Lakeland's "Letters to the Editor," "Startling 2002 figures released by the U.S. Census Bureau show that one million more Americans lived in poverty than in 2001 and that the U.S. median household income fell 1.1 percent."

So, for the sake of the unemployed, I'll be trick-or-treating as Bush. However, unlike the real President, I won't be shaking hands. My hand will be out for spare change.

'Big Book of Potluck' offers pumpkin pie, a fall standard

COOKING BY THE BOOK

Fall's food bounty includes pumpkin, and baked in a pie—fresh or canned—it becomes a wonderful dessert.

Maryana Vollstedt, in "The Big Book of Potluck" (Chronicle Books, 2004) provides this dressed-up recipe and suggests it as an ideal take-along to a Thanksgiving potluck—or any other fall or winter get-together. We amended the recipe slightly by adding a tablespoon of bourbon to the filling.

Serving it with a dollop of whipped cream is another option.

Vollstedt's 275 potluck recipes go far beyond desserts. Under salads, she offers a Greek-style fresh vegetable version with feta cheese. For a themed potluck, try her Orange, cucumber and jicama salad with Mexican chicken or beef enchiladas. Ground beef casseroles, chili and cheese-filled manicotti with rich meat sauce are among other possibilities. She provides easy-to-follow instructions and straight-forward recipes.

Sour Cream Pumpkin Pie with Pecan Topping

1 Tbl. all-purpose flour
1 tsp. ground cinnamon
1/2 tsp. ground ginger
1/4 tsp. ground nutmeg
1/4 tsp. ground cloves
1/4 tsp. salt
2 large eggs
1 can (15 oz.) Canned pumpkin puree (not pumpkin-pie filling)

1/2 cup sour cream
1 cup evaporated milk
One 9-in. flaky pie shell, unbaked

Topping:
1/4 cup chopped pecans
1/4 cup packed dark brown sugar
1 Tbl. butter at room temperature

(Serves 6 to 8)

CORN BREAD PUMPKINS

Their whimsical performance features vocals by both Lou & Peter, while Lou plays accordion and Peter guitar. They are heard often on National Public Radio, including A Prairie Home Companion.

The performance will take place at the Congregational Unitarian Church, 221 Dean Street, Woodstock, on Oct. 16 at 8 p.m.

Chekhov's 'Seagull' captivating in Writers' Theatre production

(right) Susan Hart and Christopher McLinden in a scene from Chekhov's "Seagull." They play Arkadina, the mother, and Constantine Treplev, the son in the Writers' Theatre production.

Critic's Choice By TOM WITOM

Family relationships, love and the power of theater and writing are all components of Anton Chekhov's enduring tragicomedy, "Seagull." The subject matter is as valid now as when the drama was first produced in 1896.

Under the intelligent direction of Michael Halberstam, "Seagull" is getting a grand revival at Writers' Theatre, an intimate space in Glencoe. The Russian playwright's work benefits from a crisp, cogent translation by Curt Columbus and a stellar cast.

It's set at a lakeside summer estate where a famous Moscow actress, Arkadina (Susan Hart, as the consummate egoist) has gathered with her family, staff and admirers in tow.

Her idealistic son Constantine Treplev (Christopher McLinden), a budding, temperamental playwright, grouches about not being appreciated. As an entertainment for the group, he puts on a confusing futuristic play that he abruptly halts when his dismayed mother interrupts the show. The relationship between the two is trying at best. During the second act, they have a big clash in over money. Treplev calls her "old" and a "tightwad" and she, insisting that as an actress she must spend her resources on makeup and clothes, denigrates her son: "You're nothing." As "Seagull" unfolds, it becomes apparent that its characters have each picked the wrong person to love. Treplev is bewitched by a fledgling actress who lives across the lake, Nina (Karen Aldridge) who, in turn, has taken up with Trigorin (Coby Goss), a popular, influential writer who had been courting Arkadina.

On Stage

Meanwhile, Masha (Karen Woditsch), who sniffs snuff and swigs strong spirits at every opportunity and wears black because she mourns her life, secretly has pined for Treplev's heart but compromised by entering a disastrous marriage with the local school teacher, Medvedenko (Kelly Cooper).

A depressed Treplev lays a dead seagull at Nina's feet, vowing to do the same to himself, a threat he eventually fulfills after an ill-fated meeting with the woman of his desire.

In between, there's much discussion on what it means to be a writer and the sacrifices one must make for a life in the theater.

There's also nice work by Robert Scogin, as the aging, crusty but good-humored uncle who looks back with a touch of melancholy on his 28 years as a government service, his only wish now being "I just want to live a little."

Scenic designer Brian Sidney Bembridge's dreamy backdrop nicely captures the woods and lake setting, set off with a miniature of the house mounted on a post. The reality, of course, is far less bucolic than the illusion.

John Clark (Richard Gere) is a successful Chicago attorney. To the outside world he has it all; a well paying job, a family and lovely wife, Beverly (Susan Sarandon), a fancy sedan and SUV parked in front of a large house in the north shore suburbs. In general, everything's going his way. However, he's conflicted by the fact that his life has no personal energy and there is no one or nothing to blame. His wife is a successful person in both her personal and professional life as well, and he has no quarrel with that. Their teenage daughter is very astute and keeps both parents on their toes. John knows he's unhappy but has no idea what to do about it.

Each day as John takes the elevated train on his way home, he passes a dance studio and observes Paulina (Jennifer Lopez) looking out of the window. Clearly she also is missing something in her life. Not sure if he is drawn to the studio so he can have an affair, John signs up for beginning ballroom dance lessons. As his interest in dance increases, he stays out late on a regular basis and Beverly soon suspects that he is having an affair. John starts to understand passion as never before when a dance instructor observes that the attitude one must have when doing the rumba is that you must hold your partner while thinking that what you do on the dance floor is a vertical expression of a horizontal wish.

After hiring a private detective (Richard Jenkins of HBO's "Six Feet Under"), Beverly is disappointed to learn that John seems to need something quite fundamental that she can't give him. Helping John to understand the control he has to find happiness within his family is co-worker Link (Stanley Tucci) and the people he meets at the dance studio. Link wears a psychological mask at work, pretending to care about sports as he constantly spouts facts of interest to others. He wears another, more distinguishing guise as he uses dance to let it all hang out, and only because of a dance competition does Link find out who he really is. Lisa Ann Walter ("Bruce Almighty") and Omar Benson Miller ("8 Mile") are dance students with their own hidden agendas for coming to the dance studio. And let's not forget Jennifer Lopez, an expert dance instructor and former competitor looking for a spark in her life to once again dance competitively.

There are no bad people in "Shall We Dance." It's a likeable movie in every aspect. You care about the people because you can relate to them. It can help one realize the aliveness of their dreams.

Searching for happiness

George's Take: Since the 1996 Japanese film, upon which this movie was based, is my all time #1 film, I was expecting to hate this picture because it would lose much of what I loved in the first one due to two things: 1) Hollywood's tendency to butcher the remake of outstanding foreign films and 2) the 'Bennifer' factor. I was hooked when the supporting cast came through, especially the unknowns such as Lisa Ann Walter and Omar Benson Miller. Stanley Tucci was surprisingly funny and Susan Sarandon displayed a sexiness that all women over 40 will be proud of. The movie is not just about Gere and Lopez, but all of us.

Pam's Take: I enjoy films that address the values of accountability and self-renewal. Screenwriter Audrey Wells ("Under the Tuscan Sun") captures the "bluesy" feeling we can sometimes experience, even though we can seem to have it all (spouse, children, big house, plenty of money in the bank, health, etc.) but still be emotionally unfulfilled for reasons we don't understand.

We agree that "Shall We Dance" is brilliant in how it steps into the shoes of people from various walks of life, with a broad range of viewpoints, and engagingly presents how dance (it could be bird watching, bowling going to the theater or practically anything) can become a focal point to make sense of your life. The best moments in your life may be in the future or perhaps were in the past, but chances are it's right now because of what you are learning today. Only you can see this reality. Because time is the one thing you can never get back, make the most of it, it's one of the most important things you can do. Arthur Murray (whose legendary dance studios are sponsoring a contest to win dance lessons in conjunction with the film) used to end his television program, which featured ballroom dancing, with the inspiring words, "Put a little joy in your life. Try dancing."

NEW RELEASES

These films are currently playing at local theaters. An average of six new reviews a week as well as recent releases can be found under Now Playing at www.reelmoviecritic.com.

opening this week

Around the Bend: Any film with Oscar winners Michael Caine and Christopher Walken has to be good. To work out the long hidden issues of four generations of males is not easy. When Walken, Caine's returned prodigal son, shows up after a 30-year absence, forgiveness is not the first thought that comes to mind for Walken's son, played by Josh Lucas. Abandoned by his father when he was two, Lucas is now the father of a six-year-old. Caine is overjoyed with his son's arrival, and Lucas's young son is thrilled to meet his grandfather. But it's evident that there's a lot to be resolved as these four are brought together on a road trip...of sorts. The concept of coming of age, at any age, is what the film is about. Somewhat melodramatic and quirky, the movie set the stage for Walken to win Best Actor honors at the Montreal Film Festival. (R)

Team America: World Police: The directors of South Park use their wit to bring you a politically charged, puppet animation feature that unofficial operatives of both Bush or Kerry would love to spin into a political attack ad. While one may think the controversy on the film would be about our top elected officials, it was whether the film would be rated NC-17 or R. This hard R movie is also hard satire. (R)

Chicago International Film Festival's final week Oct. 15-21

Still time to catch a few movie gems

It's been a sort of 'Around the World in 14 Days' experience as the 40th CIFF counts down to its closing this week. Featuring films from 44 countries, this Chicago festival has something to hold everyone's interests. But if there is one thing that film lovers should be aware of about how to get the most from a film festival, it's to buy your tickets early. Most films screen a maximum of three times, and often in relatively small theaters that are subject to sell out. To purchase tickets for this week call 312-332-FILM or Ticketmaster at 312-902-1500.

Closing the festival is "The Polar Express," a film that uses a sort of "human animation" technique to tell the story of a journey of self-discovery of a young boy who takes a train ride to the North Pole. This holiday film stars Tom Hanks, who will be on-stage at the screening on Thursday at the Cadillac Palace Theatre at 7:00 PM. Academy Award winning director Robert Zemeckis ("Forrest Gump," "Cast Away," "Back to the Future") will be honored at that time.

Other Oscar potential films from this 40th anniversary film festival are "Kinsey," "Being Julia," "Finding Neverland," "Sideways" and "Around the Bend," which opens today. Sandwiched between these big budget films, with marquee-value household names, are the films that don't have the Hollywood marketing machine, or the conventional market tested endings, waiting for you to discover. Many of these gems should be considered for that reason...you have not heard of them. With only 111 films selected from more than 1,500 submitted to the festival, literally everything in the festival has some artistic merit.

Some of the artistic gems we've discovered so far are "Undertow," "Trilogy: The Weeping Meadow," "Battles Without Honor and Humanity," "The Machinist," "I Like to Work," "Nelly," "The Spectator," and "Up Against Them All." Small films of this caliber motivate us to recommend the following films during the last week of the festival. Nathalie...Lee and Shelley (Lee Shoquist and Shelley Cameron are contributors to on-line Reel Movie Critic). Kontroll...see our article from last week. Ma Mere...Lee and Shelley. Moolaade...an audience favorite and prize winner at Cannes; the "father of African Cinema," Ousmane Sembene tells a moving story about a young woman's struggle as she rebels against the horrific practice of female circumcision. Moolaade is a protective spell, which promises misfortune to any who harm girls under the watchful eye of a person providing shelter. Cinematography is exceptional. Sideways...Alexander Payne ("Election," "About Schmidt") directs Paul Giamatti ("American Splendor") and Thomas Haden Church in a bachelor party, road trip film about best friends. Giamatti's idea of fun is wine tasting and fine dining. He's a would-be novelist still in a funk two years after his divorce. Church, a carefree ex soap star, surviving on free lance advertising work, wants to get as many women in the sack as soon as possible, before he ties the knot. When the men meet two intriguing women (Virginia Madsen and Sandra Oh), both of them are forced to face their demons straight on.

Many of the films in recent film festivals will open in the coming months at theaters such as Renaissance Place in Highland Park and The Music Box in Chicago. Without the Hollywood marketing dollars behind them they usually will play for a few weeks before they move to another city, making a tour of the country. Be on the look out for them and when the subject looks like something that is of interest to you, be sure to go opening week because without that support there will not be a second week. You know this is our mantra, if you are a regular reader. Movie lovers win 100% of the time, as you will see wonderful films and channel money in the direction that will result in a choice of films that are broader in spectrum than regular formulaic fare. Like any good menu, variety is the spice of life.

BLUES

Siegel began his live career by filling in on piano for a group at the Whiskey A-Go-Go, relying on Mandel to tell him what chords to play. After switching to the harmonica, he and Schwall began a live residency at Pepper's Show Lounge, where he played with Waters, Little Walter, Buddy Guy and Willie Dixon - in his first two nights on the job.

Though he was just learning his craft when he began performing live, Siegel laughingly recalls that he stopped showing up for school classes after releasing his first album in 1966. He has since expanded the parameters of popular music, performing with the San Francisco Symphony on a platinum-selling album and recording with his highly successful Chamber Blues project.

Their set switches every time out, but Siegel predicts the band will perform Tracy Nelson's "Mother Earth," the anthemic "Born in Chicago" and "Buried in the Blues," which Gravenites wrote for Janis Joplin.

Recruited by several blues musicians, the Chicago Blues Reunion Band played a club gig two years ago that led to triumphant performances at the San Francisco and Chicago blues festivals.

The group performs together intermittently, but the live shows continue to electrify The Band's members. Goldberg fondly reminisces of a concert last year in Berwyn, Illinois, when a rabid audience and dynamic performance overwhelmed him.

"There were tears streaming down my face," he said. "Playing with Dylan and everybody, nothing could top that moment. That was the greatest moment of my musical career."

Audience members can expect a similar fiery performance on Saturday night from the group "I love and revere," said Goldberg.

"It's a glorious time, just a celebration. And I hope we can do it as long as possible."

Child porn sting: 12 arrests, 3 wanted

Another wanted suspect turns self in this week

By Marc Jenkins
Managing Editor

A child pornography investigation which operated from Belarus to Florida with Lake County customers has been squashed after a rolling 10-month investigation by Lake County officials, resulting in arrests of 12 men and another three wanted on charges.

The arrests are part of Operation Predator, an initiative developed by the Department of Homeland Security's Bureau of Immigration and Customs Enforcement to identify child predators and purveyors of child porn.

Information gained by the federal government was turned over to local officials,

Waller said the Web sites originated in the former Soviet Union's republic of Belarus. The site used a Florida company to procure credit card payments through a company called Regpay, which were used to arrest 12 of the 15 men so far.

Those who have been arrested and convicted are:

Andrew Shuran, 57, of 425 Cambridge Drive, Grayslake, a former teacher and administrator at Farragut High School in Chicago, pleaded guilty to four counts of possession of child pornography. Shuran was sentenced to 24 months probation and ordered to give a $1,000 contribution to the Lake County Children's Advocacy Center. Shuran was arrested in January.

Judging the judges

Four aim to keep their seats

By Jeff Zachary

The question on the bottom of the November ballot reads: Shall each of the persons listed be retained in office as Judge of the Circuit Court, Nineteenth Judicial Circuit?

And the voters can check yes or no for the four Lake County Judges on this year's ballot.

If a judge receives more than 40 percent "no" votes, he or she will lose her job.

But according to Judge Raymond J. McKoski, the voters should vote yes to retain himself, Judge Henry C. Torigan, Judge Margaret Muller and

Still no flu vaccine

By Jeff Zachary
Staff Reporter

The Lake County Health Department does not have any flu vaccine for its clients.

"There is nothing anywhere," said Lake County Board Chair Suzi Schmidt at the October monthly meeting of the county board.

Responding to a question if the county government had any flu vaccine, Dale Galassie, executive director of the health department said, "The bottom line is no we do not. We have cancelled all of our clinics."

Galassie blamed the shortage on the fact that 45 percent of the world's flu vaccine has been cancelled due to production problems.

"There will definitely not be enough vaccine this year. (But) there are private practitioners out there that have vaccine," Galassie said.

Lake County Board member Robert Sabonjian (D-Waukegan) expressed outrage at the shortage of flu vaccine.

"I think it's a pretty sad comment on the state of this nation when we can spend billions of dollars in Iraq and we cannot provide a simple flu vaccination for the residents of this nation," Sabonjian said.

Judy Martini (R-Antioch) encouraged people to be proactive in not getting the flu.

State Sen. Peterson hopeful for re-election

By Jeff Zachary

Staff Reporter

State Senator William Peterson (R-Prairie View) remembers the time well.

"The State Senator at the time, Betty Lou Moore, was retiring, and she asked me to be the candidate. I was flattered and took the offer seriously," Peterson said.

That was 22 years ago and Peterson decided to run for office. He has been representing the 26th District in the State Senate ever since and is seeking re-election on Nov. 2 ballot.

Peterson led a fight against Gov. Rod Blagojevich's fees such as for trucks.

"We have lost 3,000 trucking firms and 17,000 licenses to neighboring states. It is detrimental to the Illinois economy. We are in a constant battle to keep our people here in Illinois and not have them go to Wisconsin."

He was active in supporting bills, with State Representatives Mark Beaubien and JoAnn Osmond, to assist Round Lake and Gavin school districts. Gavin won rights to bond for cost of replacing Gavin Central School.

"I feel I have the ability to work with both sides of the aisle, and have knowledge of units of government. I have always been accessible and hope to continue to get the support of constituents of the 26th district," Peterson said.

Peterson

He blasted the proposal to pay for operation of state government through the road fund. "Blagojevich says that he is not raising taxes, but he is stealing from dedicated, earmarked funds," Peterson said. "All the power in the state legislature is in the Chicago. All the top political officer holders, except for State Treasurer Judy Barr Topinka who is Republican, live there and the suburbs, which need the state funds for state roads. We are getting the short end of the stick. Due to the legislative 'overtime' work on the budget, more funding came for schools and park land grants."

Peterson said Illinois has "the worst record of all Midwestern states as far as attracting businesses is concerned. We should bring back some of the grants that the governor cut," he said.

Regarding transportation, he said he favors a bypass for Route 120 and improvements to Route 176. "Eight years ago, Route 53 design was approved and the Illinois Tollway Authority is considering the design for the south. But for the north, that may be more difficult because of a different environmental setting."

"As Republicans, we always believe that less is better in government. It is not that we are against those who are truly needy, but we want to make sure the funds are spent economically and they are not robbing the system," Peterson said.

How you can preview your ballot online

Voters may now visit the Clerk's web page to preview an example of their Election Day ballot. Helander said, "Specimen ballots are available by logging on to www.co.lake.il.us/entcyck and clicking on "What's on My Ballot?" in the Quick Links box.

The user is prompted to key in their address of registration to view their specific ballot. It is important to type in the legal address. Referring to one's address on their voter card is the simplest way to do that."

The Clerk also produces a Voter's Guide, which is inserted in every major newspaper no later than two weeks before the election.

This format lists all candidates, public questions in order of the unit of government, and includes the polling place location and address for each voting precinct.

The web site also features a brief video on voting the optical scan ballot and an example of the red, white and blue voter card, which lists the units of government serving a voter.

Absentee ballot qualifications are available on-line and the request form for an Application for Absentee Ballot.

Crime Stoppers evolving to combat terrorism

By Jeff Zachary

Staff Reporter

When Lake County Crime Stoppers Executive Director Andy Anderson throws a recognition and awards luncheon at the Waukegan Yacht Club, dozens upon dozens of law enforcement officials come to listen and learn.

On this occasion it was to hear FBI Special Agent Thomas Kneir talk about the war on terrorism.

"We will never go back to the days of yesteryear," Kneir said. "They are over. The world as we knew it pre-9/11 is over."

Kneir then talked about how dangerous the terrorist group known as Al-Qaida really is.

"Al-Qaida is a group that doesn't have an air-force, they don't have a navy, they don't have an army, they don't have aircraft carriers—but the amount of pain and suffering that they put on us on 9/11 is incredible. Think about that. Both major towers of the World Trade Center (were) completely obliterated," Kneir said.

He then added that Al-Qaida was also able to make a major hit on the Pentagon, which he said is the command and control of the military might of the United States.

Kneir also warned law enforcement officials to try and not overlook even the smallest of details when arresting people because it could lead to a terrorists arrest and then gave the example of a rookie police officer catching the fugitive Eric Rudolph as he rummaged through a garbage can.

"If you don't remember anything else that I told you today—remember this—Al-Qaida is a foe that is committed to killing you and your family and our way of life," Kneir said. "There is nothing out of bounds for these guys."

He then talked about Al-Qaida using women suicide bombers to bring down two planes in Russia and he talked about the hundreds of children that were killed in a Russian School by terrorists.

However, Kneir said that in the United States communication between all the major law enforcement agencies are as good as they have ever been and he believes the war on terrorism can be won.

"It's going to be a gigantic job but if we stay focused we can stay safe. We will win this—but it will take time," Kneir said.

Guest speakers at the Crime Stoppers Luncheon included Steven Walrath, president of Crime Stoppers International who said he will be heading to London in November to hold the first summit for Crime Stoppers to plan the expansion of the Crime Stopper system throughout Europe and South Africa.

In explaining why the residents of Lake County should support Crime Stoppers international he said:

"The plans that are being made for our destruction are actually being made outside of Lake County. That is why human intelligence is going to be the key to this war on crime and terrorism," Walrath said.

County Dems to screen movies

On Oct. 17, at 7 p.m., the movie will be "Bush's Brain," a film about Karl Rove, George W. Bush's chief strategist and consultant to U.S. Sens. Phil Gramm, Kay Bailey Hutchison.

On Oct. 24, at 7 p.m., the movie will be, "Fahrenheit 9/11," one of the most controversial and provocative films of the year. Fahrenheit 9/11 is Academy Award-winning filmmaker Michael Moore's searing examination of the Bush administration's actions in the wake of the tragic events of 9/11.

According to report a 19-year-old student was in the CLC parking lot when she was approached by a male who asked her if she "wanted to take a ride." The girl then ran and maced the man, who fell.

Sabonjian confident in recorder's race

By Jeff Zachary

Staff Reporter

The Republican candidate for the Lake County Recorder of deeds Dana Sabonjian, 51, has been in politics all of her life and may have the political savvy to defeat incumbent Mary Ellen Vanderventer (D-Waukegan).

In fact, when Sabonjian was four-years old in 1957 and her dad Bob Sabonjian was running for mayor of Waukegan, her dad would hold her up to the microphone at political events and she would sing "S-a-b-o-n-j-i-a-n spells Sabonjian—and he is the greatest man you'll ever vote for."

And to this day she says her dad has been the greatest influence in her life.

"I just remember my dad helping people, helping people and helping people throughout the years. He was always the first one to lend a hand, give people money when they needed money, pick up the phone and get them a job or whatever he was able to do to help. And that is what he was known for and that is what I like to do. Having been raised in that kind of atmosphere that is where my background and roots are—and that is being able to help people."

When the elder Sabonjian lost the mayoral election in 1977 he worked for Statewide insurance for eight years but couldn't stand to see what was happening to Waukegan so he ran again in 1985 and Dana Ran his campaign for him.

"I really loved it and he then hired me as his administrative assistant. A lot of people criticized him for that but he always said 'If I can't hire my own daughter because I trust her who else can I hire?'"

Sabonjian added, "My father was known for saying what he felt without mincing any words."

Sabonjian said working for her dad has given her a lot of experience in seeing first hand how government works.

After working as the Mayor's administrative assistant, Sabonjian worked as Waukegan's City Collector and completely modernized the department and hooked up the water billing system to a computer system.

After losing a close election for Waukegan Clerk in 1993, Sabonjian got her real estate license and has been working with Century 21 United for nine years as a real estate agent.

Sabonjian said if she is elected she would improve security at the Recorder of Deeds Office, and make the office more accessible to the general public and vastly improve the speed with which it takes to record a deed.

"Ten to 12 weeks is just too long," Sabonjian said.

"I will be an on the job recorder. I am trying to keep this campaign as positive as possible but I think the people know what I mean when I say I will be an on the job recorder."

Sabonjian said she also thought it was inappropriate for Vanderventer to send out mailings at the taxpayer's expense under the guise of warning them about fraudulent home lenders a month before the election.

"People are not stupid, they can figure out what she is doing. I think it's unethical and shows the level and integrity of a candidate who does something like that."

Sabonjian concluded her remarks: "I was raised in an atmosphere of honest public service. Taxpayers deserve an honest person who is hardworking and who will be on the job daily."

Incumbents do job in 8th, 10th Districts

Voters in the 8th and 10th Congressional districts that cover Lake County and parts of adjoining counties have a choice between the tried and true and the tired and tawdry.

We're sticking with the tried and true and endorse the incumbents, Phil Crane in the 8th and Mark Kirk in the 10th. Crane and Kirk represent both ends of the GOP spectrum in Congress. Kirk is youthful and vigorous, firmly implanted in the middle of moderate Republicanism. Crane, a senior member of Congress, still is a hardy voice for conservatism. Both fit well in their respective districts and represent citizens well. If doing a good job and representing well the views of a majority of their constituents, then Mark Kirk and Phil Crane have earned re-election.

Kirk solidly supports President Bush, enunciating well the doctrine of fighting terrorists on their home turf rather than in the American homeland. It is a distinct plus for residents of the 10th District that Kirk is the only member of Congress who continues to serve as a Naval Reserve intelligence officer. He has helped obtain funding for the northern Illinois commuter rail line, brought together forces combining the North Chicago VA Hospital and Great Lakes Naval Hospital. Perhaps his most enduring accomplishment has been his bi-partisan efforts to improve Lake Michigan water, principally the reduction of mercury pollution. He pushed the administration for new defenses for Israel.

Charges by Crane's opponent that the long-time lawmaker is "slowing down" are way off mark. Age hasn't hampered Phil Crane from being "modern as the minute" when it comes to helping implement a voluntary prescription drug plan that will save senior citizens money. Crane has been on the side of phasing out the death tax and marriage tax; he voted for doubling the child tax credit to $1,000. True to his time-honored record of reigning in taxation, he's added in luster to his record with reducing tax rates for all taxpayers and implementing legislation to help small business, the real "job engines" in the U.S. economy. Crane's handprint is on many federal aid measures introduced to help 8th District public agencies. Crane's long standing aversion to new federal taxes has served well both the district and the nation. As chairman of a sub-committee on trade, the Illinois legislative veteran works to pull down trade barriers that hurt the U.S. in a global economy.

Phil Crane is well aware of demographic changes that play into the hands of his opponent, Melissa Bean, who dwells on their age difference and has employed past Democratic strategies of raising the tired old charges that Crane is out of touch and past his prime. Lee Goodman, Kirk's opponent, has framed his campaign right out of the liberal Democratic playbook, running a tasteless campaign of well worn national issues that hasn't connected with residents of one of the most diverse socio-economic districts in the nation.

Lake County and neighboring areas have been served well by Phil Crane and Mark Kirk. We endorse their re-elections heartily.

Obama, Keyes present quandry

Never before have Illinois voters been in such a quandry over selection of a state-wide candidate than the U.S. Senate race of 2004. Going down to the wire, the race pits a Democrat "who can't lose" against a Republican "who can't win." Almost an after thought is the reality that the outcome will see Illinois electing its second African American senator in a decade because both parties are running African Americans.

Both candidates came to the ballot as surprises. State Sen. Barack Obama, won the Democratic nomination is somewhat of an upset, overcoming a white millionaire campaigning as a front-runner who stubbed his toe on moral questions arising out of a messy divorce. Alan Keyes, was picked as the Republican nominee after a rancorous party fight because the GOP nominee quit over moral questions arising out of a messy divorce. Is this an election campaign or a political version of a Jerry Springer show?

Skin color aside, Obama and Keyes couldn't be more different.

Coroner handling of indigent funerals

This is a difficult column to write. I have written before when someone has taken advantage of others, the disabled, the needy, or the aged. No one is more helpless than one who dies with no family, no friends, and completely penniless.

When the indigent die and it is determined that there is no one, or no way, to pay for funeral costs, the state of Illinois provides $1,500 toward funeral expenses or $1,000 for cremation expenses. In Lake County, Joseph Vogler is the public guardian administrator. He has been referring those indigent funerals to the coroner's office. He claims that he is making those referrals to the coroner or deputies who have licenses as funeral directors.

Jim Wipper was appointed Lake County Coroner about 18 months ago when Coroner Barbara Richardson retired. He is a licensed funeral director but doesn't work out of any funeral home. Vogler has been referring most of the indigent deaths for funerals to Coroner Wipper during the 20 years that Wipper has been in the coroner's office.

Vogler claims that he sends the indigent cases to Wipper because funeral home directors in Lake County refuse such cases, presumably because there's no profit for them. You can believe or disbelieve Public Guardian Vogler. There is reason to question him because in the counties in the metropolitan area, the funeral homes don't seem to have a problem handling indigent burials or cremations. In fact, in most of those counties, they use a rotating system, where one funeral home will handle an indigent funeral, then another funeral home will handle the next.

I would think that the coroners in those counties, even though it might be legal for them to handle those funerals, take the position that they want to avoid the appearance of impropriety. Said more plainly, it may be legal, but it's not ethical.

Both Lake County State's Attorney and Illinois General Lisa Madigan have indicated the practice is legal because Wipper holds a funeral director's license.

The other issue is that reports indicate Wipper admits to using vehicles paid by county taxpayers to transport the indigent bodies to a crematory in Lake Villa. He defends that illegal act by saying that it is a "trade-off" for the times that he is not reimbursed for using his personal expenses while on public duty.

Coroner Wipper also says that these charges have been brought forth by a former employee who worked for 13 years in the coroner's office and was fired over a poor evaluation. Disgruntled or not, I have seen nowhere that Wipper denies what the former investigator has said about him.

Wipper has sent mixed signals. On the one hand, he has said that his coroner's job is a 24-hour job, so it's alright to use a public vehicle even though its use was not in the performance of his public responsibilities. Although he considers being coroner a 24-hour job, he sees nothing wrong with making money off of indigent cremations because when he does that it is as a private funeral director, not as coroner, that he is doing it.

Now, the math. The state provides $1,000 per cremations of an indigent body. The cost of cremation is $150. That means, Coroner Jim Wipper makes $850 every time that he handles an indigent cremation.

Oh—yes. Coroner Wipper's salary which all of county taxpayers pay for his 24-hour job is $95,000. That helps to make it even more sad and gruesome. Does he really need to make side money that accrues from his public elected position?

One thing is for certain. This unethical practice ought to be made illegal. Also, someone ought to be examining in more detail the machinations that went into this whole process. Some years ago I questioned the close relationship with the public administrator and the sheriff's office where a certain deputy received a beautiful boat at one of the administrator's public sales. More scrutiny wouldn't hurt.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Celebrate flips

How very boring and tiresome to hear their mantra "He flip-flops." The anthem of the Republican party. I say we should celebrate Mr. Kerry's flip-flops. They show the world the man has grown, matured, learned from his experiences and adversities, and is sensitive to the nuances and vagaries of life. He is not a hard core iron clad monolith. Celebrate. Trust the core of this man who has the best qualities of human nature. Celebrate.

Consider the alternative. Mr. Bush is the perfect example of a man who always stays the course. You can still see his perfect childhood; in the child's world of unlimited resources, unrestricted demands well met; an aura of privilege reinforced regularly; and the sure knowledge that money speaks the loudest and gives the best returns. In every statement he makes, if you listen carefully for his actual words, the final basic result will be his defense of money over environment, endangered species, loss of open land, and the pollution of air and water. He even managed to solve a senior citizen problem by enriching his cronies, He stays the course.

Kerry presidential

I am a former Viet Nam veteran who was impressed by John Kerry in the first presidential debate. John Kerry showed a mastery of the issues, an ability to think quickly on his feet and he presented a strong alternative to Bush's reckless policy of the war. He was more presidential than the president.

PARTY LINES

Warren, Wauconda GOP spurs values

Republicans in Wauconda and Warren (Gurnee) Townships are stressing core party values in dealing with public issues.

Wauconda Republicans are making national headlines challenging the Wauconda Area Public Library pre-election showing of the controversial Michael Moore documentary "Fahrenheit 9/11". They have charged that Library Director Tom Kern's decision to show the film Oct. 28, is more than coincidental. Library film showings normally are along the lines of Mickey Mouse, Spider Man and Charlie Brown. Kern says he doesn't get involved in partisan politics. Due to the furor, the pre-election showing was scrubbed.

Indications are that the controversy won't die after Election Day, Nov. 2, much like the controversy generated a decade ago when prominent atheist Rob Sherman pressed legal action against the village for displaying a white cross on the village water tower at Christmas. The upshot was that villagers took it upon themselves to erect white crosses in front yards all over town as an expression of protest.

Warren Republicans are stressing grassroots participation to recapture a claim of being the most Republican township in Lake County. Under the new leadership of Brian Winter, township GOP chairman, every precinct has been staffed with a committeeman to get out the vote. To fan interest of both voters and party members, the township GOP organization is adding impetus to its annual Octoberfest Saturday, Oct. 30, at Oceana Restaurant, Rte. 41. On the fun side there will be food and fellowship. On the serious side, committeemen and party workers will receive literature to be delivered to every house in the township before Election Day.

Jim who?

Republican leaders are taking detached reaction to charges that Coroner Jim Wipper acted improperly in pocketing state fees for burying indigent citizens. Their thinking is along the lines that as a first timer on the ballot, voters will have a difficult time connecting the name with the alleged deed. The theory goes that GOP voters will not be swayed to cross the ticket to vote for Dr. Richard Keller, the Democratic nominee who is making an issue of the state payments to Coroner Wipper.

Getting known

The incoming president of Waukegan's Shimer College will push an outreach program to get the tiny liberal arts school familiar to every community in Lake County.

William Craig Rice, Shimer's 12th president, will be inaugurated at 3 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 16, in ceremonies at the First Baptist Church, 401 NB. Genesee St. Rice wants the expanded Shimer community to be familiar with the college's unique stress on books and ideas.

Kern: Scrubs showing of Moore film after furor.

Metra mum

Officials of villages served by the North Central Metra rail commuter line aren't happy that the Metra is not obligated to provide more information about crossing closings in connection with work to construct a second track. Crossing closing dates are announced with the provision that the dates are subject to change. Detours in mid-county towns are adding to extended drive time for community motorists.

More elections

As soon as the 2004 Presidential Election is history, County Clerk Willard Helander and her election staff will begin work on the 2005 Consolidated Election the first Tuesday of April, and primaries the last Tuesday of February where they apply. The Consolidated Election next year will be for the following offices: municipal, township, park district, library, school board, College of Lake County trustees and Regional Board of School trustees.

Enjoyable walk

Dressed casually and wearing a short-sleeved polo shirt, State Rep. Bob Churchill (R-Hainesville) talked about weather rather than politics as he headed out for an afternoon of door-to-door campaigning. "Best weather ever for a fall campaign. I'm enjoying every minute," declared the veteran House member. Churchill recalled the "very best" weather conditions for walking a precinct. "It was very cold and wet snow was falling. The weather was so poor no one was going anywhere. I had a 90 percent 'hit' record that day."

Getting personal

Sharyn Elman, Democratic challenger for Churchill's seat, has taken her personal bout with breast cancer 13 years ago directly to the voters, saying that the GOP incumbent was one of only three legislators to vote against a requirement for insurance companies to cover mammograms. Elman is banking on women's issues and her own pro-choice stance to turn the tide in the central Lake County district.

EDITORIAL

ferent in their style, political upbringing and core values. Obama is squeaky clean in his personal life who takes certified liberal positions in his political life. Keyes, has been a known quality in his public life, espousing certified conservative principals for more than 20 years, often to the chagrin of moderate Republicans.

What has voters in a quandry is that some Republicans see in Obama, particularly social issues, qualities that they can support. A growing number of Democrats, particularly blue collar voters and those in the black community, see Keyes as a candidate who has the courage to speak out on issues that resonate with them such as right to life, job protection, patriotism, and enhancement of family values.

Without a doubt, both Obama and Keyes represent shifting sands of opinion and what is best for Illinois and the nation. As a relative newcomer, Democrats have hailed the Ivy League educated Illinois state senator as the "future face" of the Democratic party. As such, Obama was afforded a huge piece of "show time" at the national Democratic convention. Conservative Illinois Republican leaders view Keyes as providing a clarion call to bedrock

GOP principals going back to the days of Abraham Lincoln as the party struggles to throw off the scandals and the George Ryan days and "old boy" influence that has wrecked the party in recent years, leaving it in the shambles that it is in today.

We have been surprised how closely the two candidates stand on domestic and economic issues such as reigning in corporate farm largesse, importing foreign prescription drugs, reshaping NAFTA and concern for basic workers benefits. The two Senate seekers aren't far apart at all on how to protect better-paid, knowledge based jobs that have been going overseas.

Barack Obama and Alan Keyes can be seen as beacons in how the red and blue states are being configured. What it boils down to is that the election of Obama will lock in Illinois with another ultra-liberal Democrat in the U.S. Senate, Dick Durbin. If you think that you, your community and Illinois will be better served with continuation of a conservative representing Illinois like retiring GOP Sen. Peter Fitzgerald, then a vote for Alan Keyes is in order. In our opinion, Illinois should be a swing state, considering our socio-economic makeup. Fair and balanced, one Democrat and one Republican in the U.S. Senate from Illinois. We always do better when both major parties in Illinois are represented in the U.S. Senate.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Find faults in Bush administrator

The Bush campaign is trying to sell the electorate on the notion that President Bush is "decisive." What good is that when the decisions that he makes are wrong? Too many politicians won't admit their mistakes. It is really dangerous when that politician making the mistakes, and not admitting them, is the president of the United States.

The voters can show that they can be decisive, too, and be right about it. They can vote for John Kerry rather than George W. Bush.

More terrorists

The Bush campaign has framed this issue—that we are safer from terrorism today. So, to respond to their issue, do you think that there are more terrorists in the world who hate us, or less terrorists? I firmly believe that there are many more of them today, and our mistakes in Iraq are the cause of it.

Smearing Sullivan

A recent letter attacked State Rep. Ed Sullivan Jr., for his vote against H.B. 2112. This bill sponsored and passed by Chicago Democrats places a ceiling on annual increases in the assessed value of real estate. The supervisor of assessments has said H.B. 2112 would lower tax bills for 10 percent of homeowners in Lake County and raise them for the remaining 90 percent. Further, this bill would hurt businesses and seniors enrolled in the senior assessment freeze program.

H.B. 2112 is a bad bill and I thank Sullivan for trying to defeat it even though a majority of Democrats in Springfield passed the bill. It should be no surprise now to find that Ed Sullivan's Democratic opponent and her supporters are attempting to smear him for his vote against this bill even though it will cause the great majority of property owners in Lake County to pay higher real estate taxes.

This latest attack on Ed Sullivan Jr., is typical of his Democratic opponents' campaign to smear him using misrepresented or omitted facts. Sullivan's record provides strong evidence that he is a non-sense fiscal conservative. Don't be misled by anyone who would tell you otherwise.

Chief a 'rider'

My heart swelled at hearing the words of a truly intelligent man, a man of the world, and a man of substance. It seems that he is more tangible as a person to me, and can you imagine how well he will translate to the rest of this planet?

The only "substance" the current administration has going for it now is its public relations spin, misguided replies to serious world and local issues, and half-truths that any uninformed and frankly lower-thinking creature can easily follow. His four years proved this. The aw-shucks attitude just won't play in the realities of the world and this country, it only allows for attacks, abuse and mockery. It appears that the present commander-in-chief is only a delegator, not a doer. He was just along for the ride.

Murder weapons

The 10-year ban on assault weapons expired on midnight Tuesday, Sept. 14. Republican Senate Majority Leader Bill Frist said "the will of the American people is consistent with letting it expire."

Consistent with American people? The evening before, a national poll tallied that 70 percent of Americans wanted the ban to be renewed. President Bush isn't listening to the American people or to Chicago Mayor Richard M. Daley who made a personal plea to the president to urge Congress to extend the ban.

The Senate leader would have been more honest if he had said that the will of the National Rifle Association was consistent with letting the ban expire. Hunters don't hunt with assault weapons—murderers do.

Could be worse

Today's morning news tells me that the cost of feeding my family is up 40 percent in the past 10 years. Yesterday's news warned me to expect exorbitant prices for heating my home this winter. Last month's news informed me that Gavin School Board voted to tear down our new school and build a newer, bigger one because it needs a new roof. Legal fees, housing and transporting students offsite, destruction and construction costs will undoubtedly become the burden of the taxpayers, when the reputable architect and construction firms accepted responsibility and offered to do and pay for the repairs. In a very short time, many of us may not be able to afford those real estate taxes.

But it could be worse. Consider the plight of the Chicago professional baseball player who was just fined a whole day's pay for missing a baseball game. That is $87,400! Gasp!

Greedy coroner

This matter of Lake County Coroner Jim Wipper thinking that there is nothing wrong with using his public office to make some added money beyond his regular salary to cremate the bodies of deceased indigents is disturbing. There is nothing morally right about that. It was also disturbing to me to read the quotation of the Lake County Public Guardian Joseph Vogler, who said that it can be difficult to find a funeral home willing to perform services for the indigent. I'm not sure what services he is talking about when it appears that for the $1,000 fee that Wipper was collecting for funeral expenses for the indigent, the only costs seemed to be for cremation, which is said to amount to $150. Also, how is it that coroners in all of the collar counties have no trouble finding local funeral homes to handle indigent funeral expenses? In fact, so as to show no favoritism toward any one funeral home, the coroners in those counties use a rotation system in referring indigent death cases to funeral homes. It appears that Coroner Wipper has a rotating system that rotates directly to his own pocket.

STING

Vernon Hills, pleaded guilty to five counts of possession of child pornography. Small was sentenced to 24 months probation and ordered to give a $500 contribution to the Lake County Children's Advocacy Center. Small was arrested in January.

Gary Gibson, 53, of 7208 Hasting Circle, Fox Lake, pleaded guilty to 10 counts of possession of child pornography. Gibson was sentenced to 12 months periodic imprisonment and 30 months probation. He was also arrested in 1976 for indecent liberties with a child and again in 1986 for possession of child pornography. Gibson was arrested in February.

Ronald Patton, 39, of 2425 Samson Way, Apt. 1E, Waukegan, pleaded guilty to five counts of possession of child pornography. Patton was sentenced to 24 months periodic imprisonment and ordered to make a $500 contribution to the Lake County Children's Advocacy Center. He was arrested in February.

Joseph Fieger, 40, of 983 Harvard Court, Highland Park, pleaded guilty to six counts of possession of child pornography. Fieger was sentenced to 24 months probation and ordered to give a $1,000 contribution to the Lake County Children's Advocacy Center. Fieger was arrested in February.

Javier Piedrahita, 53, of 31339 N. Ranch Road, Grayslake, pleaded guilty to six counts of child pornography and one count of aggravated criminal sexual abuse. Piedrahita was sentenced to serve three years in jail after his arrest in March.

Those who have been arrested and await trial are:

Craig Doyle, 35, of 1703 Partridge St., Waukegan, faces 10 counts of possession of child pornography. Doyle, who was indicted on charges on Sept. 29, allegedly told investigators upon his arrest on Oct. 12, that he had downloaded even more child pornography and will likely face more charges, pending another investigation of his computer. He is now in Lake County Jail on a $75,000 cash bond.

Matthew Kuehl, 27, of 538 Pheasant Court, Grayslake, faces 10 counts of possession of child pornography. Kuehl is currently set for arraignment. He was arrested on Oct. 4.

George Zerfass, 61, of 945 Holmes, Deerfield, faces nine counts of possession of child pornography. Zerfass, a former teacher at Glenbrook South High School in Glenview for 33 years, was set for pretrial motions on Oct. 7. He was arrested in February.

Joshua Delcore, 32, of 185 Shoreline Road, Unit A, Lake Barrington, faces 10 counts of possession of child pornography. Delcore, who was head of the Barrington Swim Club and varsity coach of Barrington High's swimming team, was set for trial on Oct. 12. He was arrested in March.

Lawrence Lott, 46, of 2390 Quaker Hollow, Round Lake Beach, faces 10 counts of possession of child pornography. Lott was arrested on Oct. 4 and later released on bond. He still awaits arraignment.

Brian Hooper, 42, of 19482 W. Grand Ave., Lake Villa, faces 10 counts of possession of child pornography. Hooper was arrested on Oct. 4 and released on bond pending his next court appearance.

Those who have outstanding warrants for their arrests are:

Steve Matoga, 27, of 17417 Chestnut Lane, Gurnee. Matoga's home was searched on Jan. 29 by the sheriff's office, state's attorney and customs agents. The case was presented to a Lake County grand jury on Sept. 29 for a direct indictment.

Bobby Armstrong, 63, of 1234 Ballantrae Place, Unit A, Mundelein, Armstrong's home was searched by the sheriff's office, state's attorney customs agents and Mundelein Police and his case was presented to a Lake County Grand Jury on Sept. 15 for a direct indictment on 10 counts of possession of child pornography. He is expected to voluntarily surrender.

Rory Klema, 43, of 33 S. Chicago Ave., Mundelein. Klema's home and business computers were searched on Sept. 3. He was directly indicted on Sept. 29 for 10 counts of possession of child pornography.

Initially, of the 29 separate cases that were reviewed, six have resulted in convictions, another six men arrested await trial and three men remain at large who are wanted on child pornography possession.

The other cases were dropped for various reasons, including a suspect who died, some who moved out of the area and others who were victims of identity theft, Waller said.

Lake County Sheriff Gary Del Re, who displayed 75 personal computers along with video tapes, CDs and floppy discs seized containing over 50,000 images and video clips of child pornography in the investigation last week, said the sting "strikes at the heart of the commercial trade of child pornography by attacking the commercial profits derived from a deplorable venture."

"Our absolute dedication to the safety and well-being of the children of Lake County remains the driving force behind our firm commitment... to ensure that smut peddlers attempting to exploit our children will be brought to justice," Del Re said in a statement.

In addition to the sheriff's office and state's attorney, Del Re said the group effort here included more than 400 hours of work from the Lake County Children's Advocacy Center and the state's attorney's Lake County High Tech Crime Task Force.

That resulted in so much evidence—over a terabyte (1,000 gigabytes) of data—that if it was put on paper, it would stack as high as the Sears Tower.

JUDGES

Susan Fayette Hutchinson (Appellate Court 2nd Judicial District) on the bench in Lake County.

McKoski cited a poll by the Lake County Bar Association, which recommended retaining all the judges.

In the all-important "Meets requirements of office" category, McKoski was recommended by 95 percent of the lawyers while Tonigan earned 87.8 percent; Mullen 86.16 percent and Hutchinson 86.14 percent.

In explaining why he should be retained, McKoski said, "First, in the 19 years that I have been a judge in Lake County I have tried every single type of case that there is to try in any court room in any county. This includes major multi-million dollar civil actions, death penalty cases and every type of criminal case, divorce case, DUI and parking tickets and everything in between. And experience is important for a judge to rely on when he is hearing cases."

"Secondly, since I've been a judge I've received the highest bar ratings that Bar Associations can give."

"Thirdly, it's because of the community activities that I am involved in. I can keep in touch with what is going on in the community, which is important."

"I've spoken at more than 100 schools in Lake County. I developed the first law day program for high school students at the courthouse in Lake County about 10 years ago and that program is still going on. I started the first Boy Scout law merit badge in the courthouse," McKoski said.

The judge added that he also gives speeches in schools that are anti-drugs and anti-violence.

"I still enjoy going to work every single day. Some days are easier than others but everyday I get up I look forward to going in the court. It is a challenge and its exciting and really rewarding work. I really love my job."

He added that all the judges in Lake County really care about the community and go out of their way to help the community. "All of these judges on the ballot are first class individuals who have proven their legal abilities."

FLU

"I've never had a flu shot in my whole life and I'm still alive and well so if you live healthy, take vitamins and wash your hands... you can cut down on your chances of getting the flu," Martini said.

Galassie said that there is really no reason to panic because nationally half of the population will be vaccinated.

Galassie said the county was purchasing its flu vaccine from Chiron Corp. and since Chiron Corp. was shut down due to production problems and lost 100 percent of its 45 million doses the county now has no vaccine.

JoAnne D. Johnson

Age 61 of Lake Villa, passed away Monday, Oct. 11, 2004 at St. Joseph Hospital, Marshfield, Wis. She was born in Merrill, Wis., the daughter of the late Joseph and Delores (Clothes) Kromholz. Ed was born the only son to Cliserio and Ester Silva. Ed was blessed to have eight sisters. His family moved to Antioch, in 1975 from Mexico. From an early age he showed his ambition by getting a paper route. He went on to other jobs bagging wood shavings and selling flowers on the corner of Routes 173 and 83. He went on to play football, wrestle and baseball for Antioch Community High School.

After graduating from Antioch Community High School in 1984, Ed began his career with Metropolitan Insurance Company. He married Julie Ingram of Antioch in 1985 and they went on to have three children. He continued his career in insurance for almost 10 years before fulfilling his dream of working in international business. Ed excelled as a salesman in the air freight forwarding business before taking a much deserved hiatus. In 2002, he and his wife Kirsten welcomed son, Sebastian into the world. Ed enjoyed seeing the world and sharing his experiences with his family and friends. Ed loved Sinatra, Elvis and sunglasses!

Plan ahead now to retire later

By Ginny Skweres

Staff Reporter

Dreams don't always come true, but planning now for retirement can go a long way in realizing hopes for the golden years, at least in terms of finances.

Young families often have more bills than money, but with saving for retirement, sooner is much better than later. Experts from the University of Illinois Extension Office state that saving a little over a long period of time will result in a significant nest egg. Delaying the saving may not allow enough time for the investment to grow.

That is important because money compounds, and interest is earned on the previously earned interest. The Extension Office uses an example of a 22-year-old saving $2,000 a year for nine years, and lets the funds accrue until the age of 65 years. That is a total of $18,000 invested that will yield $579,471 if the interest rate was a constant 9 percent.

In contrast, a person who began saving $2,000 a year at age 31, and continued to add the amount annually for 35 years does not do as well. With a total out-of-pocket investment of $70,000, the yield would only be $470,249 at that same 9 percent interest rate.

In recent years, the interest rate has not been close to 9 percent. Most banking institutions offer interest rates that vary with the prime rate that the federal government regulates.

One common retirement savings plan is for individuals to invest in certificates of deposit or individual retirement accounts. With a CD, banks generally offer a higher rate of interest than a savings account, but the individual agrees to leave the money untouched over an agreed upon time period. Usually the rate is higher for longer commitments of time, or larger amounts of money.

Financial institutions try to be close to competitive rates, and federal banking laws require a minimum of $1,000 for CDs and $500 for IRAs.

An IRA is usually in the form of a CD, but the difference is on how the government taxes the income. Money, with specified limits, can be put into an IRA each year, and the individual does not pay income tax on those funds until they are taken out of the IRA. If the money is used during retirement, earnings are generally less and the individual pays a lower tax rate on the income at that time.

Earlier this week at a random selection of Lake County banks, the rate for a three-year CD ranged between 2.65 and 3.6 percent.

The Extension Office has a Web site that can help individuals determine the results of various plans. That site is www.retirewell.uiuc.edu.

'Title School' provides ongoing education on a complicated topic

It's not kid stuff, and it's not college. It is, however, serious business—about business. It's called Title School, and despite its rather unglamorous name, it is growing in popularity among real estate professionals statewide.

"The idea behind Title School is to keep those in the land title industry up to date on changes, and hone their skills so they can better do their jobs," explains Frank Pellegrini, president of the Illinois Land Title Assn. (ILTA), which was formed 97 years ago with the goal of forming a powerful network of related landowner insurance services and professionals. Today, the ILTA's statewide roster includes members with offices in 85 of Illinois' 102 counties.

The ILTA, which administers the Title School program, regularly features seminars both in the Chicago area and in central Illinois, all of which are scheduled to be taught by the "Dean" of the school, Richard F. Bales, whose full-time job is as Assistant Regional Counsel and Assistant Vice President for the Chicago Title Insurance Company, working out of the firm's Wheaton office.

While such seminars have been held in Illinois for decades, "they've always been informal and not always organized, which minimizes their effectiveness, I think," he added on a more serious note. "Since we began the Title School, we've had a consistent focus, both in the basis for the curriculum and in the handout material our students study. And, of course, in the teaching staff." This is Bales' eighth year as the school's sole educator; although the ILTA has an education committee that helps him chart the course of study, Bales designs the structure and materials for all the courses. "It's an extremely small faculty roster."

This fall, the Title School will offer seminars in Lisle and Springfield in construction escrows and mechanics lien law, and changes in the law that affect title examiners. Last spring classes looked at fraud and forgery, a focus on the details of title policy and in-depth studies of both residential and commercial title surveys.

"The seminars run a full day with detailed instruction," said Bales. "We realize that not everybody can make it to these two locations, so we also offer 'distance learning' packages—they have all the printed materials in advance and then are connected to the seminars via conference call. This means students can get back to their desks every 90 minutes or so, and they don't have to spend a day out of the office traveling to the seminar."

Mundelein star attends LA movie premiere

By Matt Pera
Sports Reporter

The bus pulled up in front of Grauman's Chinese Theatre in Hollywood and Jake Gaebler stepped onto the red carpet as photographers flashed pictures.

A crowd lined the velvet ropes around the theatre, waiting to catch a glimpse of a famous face. Security guards and press agents ushered stars to the front doors amid the screams of admirers.

Gaebler and eight other high school football players stood in front of the paparazzi with wide grins on their faces, savoring the star treatment. Then they stepped aside and watched as Hollywood hotshots like Billy Bob Thornton, Jada Pinkett-Smith, Shawn and Marlon Wayans and Tara Reid filed past.

No, this was not your average field trip.

Gaebler, a senior running back at Mundelein High School, was one of nine prep football players nationwide who were selected by Universal Studios to attend the premiere of the new high school football movie "Friday Night Lights" on Oct. 6.

His head coach, Dave Whitson, entered him into the contest at the beginning of the season.

"He told me that he nominated me but didn't think I would be going," Gaebler said.

But a couple weeks ago he received a call from a Universal Studios representative, who informed him that he had been chosen for the honor. Players were selected based not only on their athletic prowess, but also on academic achievement and leadership skills.

Gaebler's father, Randy, joined him on the Hollywood excursion.

"It was a great experience," Randy said. "It was one of those once in a life time things, definitely a memory maker. And it was great that I got to share it with my son."

The Gaeblers flew out of O'Hare Airport on the morning of Oct. 6 and a few hours later they touched down in Los Angeles, where a limousine was waiting to take them to the Standard Hotel on the Sunset Strip.

After checking into the hotel and walking around for awhile, they got ready for the premiere and met the other players and parents in the lobby.

Gaebler said it was interesting talking football with his fellow prep stars and finding out where they were considering going to play college ball.

"They're kind of going through the same things I am," he said.

After meeting in the lobby they all piled onto the bus that would drop them off at Grauman's Chinese Theatre for the premiere.

As they pulled up, Gaebler said he was a bit taken aback by the huge crowd that had formed around the entrance.

Serving up success

In honor of the late Rodney Dangerfield, I'd like to start out this column with a classic quote: "I tell you, I get no respect."

Now I'm not talking about myself (that's a whole other column, which would be full of self-deprecating humor), but I'm talking about volleyball teams in Lake County.

Mundelein volleyball coach Dan Szymkowiak has seen it in the past.

"It used to be teams from the MSL (Mid-Suburban League) used to look down on us," Szymkowiak said.

And his team has been one of the more successful ones, making the state tournament in 1999 and finishing 4th. Stevenson also has a pair of state tournament appearances in the early '90s and Barrington, which is technically in Lake County, and a member of the aforementioned MSL, has four 2nd-place showings to its credit. But that's it.

Other than that, it's just the occasional sectional title for the rest of the teams in the county. But in recent years, local teams have been emerging in a big way, and it's just a matter of time before one makes that big splash and brings the county its first state champion.

"I believe that Lake County has shown that we can compete," Szymkowiak said. "Everyone up here is knocking on the door."

A host of area teams have a shot at winning state this year, and not just the familiar faces. Sure, Lake Zurich, Stevenson and Libertyville, not coincidentally the top-3 seeds in the Warren Sectional, each have a shot at making it downstate or

FANTASY FOOTBALL MONTHLY 2004

(Touchdowns Only!!!)

Fantasy Football season is here again! For many Lakeland readers, the very thought sends their hearts racing. But for others, the question may be, "What is fantasy football?"

One of the most popular games across the country, fantasy football comes in many different forms, with each allowing football fans to draft their "own" team every Sunday afternoon and/or Monday/Thursday night.

Lakeland Newspapers began their league 4 years ago. This year the following rules apply: readers must pick two quarterbacks, two running backs and two wide receivers. Lakeland Newspapers Fantasy Football Monthly counts only touchdowns.

Your team is good for one month and one month only.

Entries must be post marked by the last day of the previous month in order to enter the next month's contest. For example, October 31 is the last day to enter the November contest. You must re-enter each month, after the last game of the month is played the total amount of touchdowns scored by your six players is counted and whichever reader has the most total touchdowns wins. In the event of a tie, Lakeland will count the touchdowns of the candidate's "write-in" players. One entry per person. The October, November and December winners will go in a raffle for the Whirlyball Prize. Each runner-up will get $25.

Lakeland Newspapers will publish a fantasy football column each week with tips and player news. Don't forget that schedule plays a big role in which players choose. Just because someone may be the league's best player, does not necessarily mean that they will be the best player that month. And don't forget the bye weeks.

Good luck and get those entries in.

HOLLYWOOD

"I was a little nervous at first because there were so many people," he said. "But you couldn't stop smiling once you got out there. It was definitely something I'll never forget."

After posing for photographs, the group headed into the theatre auditorium for the screening of the movie.

"Friday Night Lights" is based on a true story. It chronicles the 1988 season of the Odessa Permian (Texas) High School football team, portraying the tragedy and triumph of the players and head coach Gary Gaines.

Gaebler said he enjoyed the movie and, for the most part, thought it was a realistic depiction of high school football, adding that he especially related to the team dynamic.

"They were real close and spent so much time with each other and were kind of like brothers," he said. "They go through the good and bad but always stick together. It's an accurate portrayal and it's definitely similar to not just our team, but I think every football team."

When the movie ended, Gaebler got the chance to attend one of the wrap parties and brush shoulders with the stars.

"You would just be walking around and you would walk right by some one you see on TV," he said. "It was pretty cool being in the middle of that."

While Gaebler didn't have the opportunity to meet any of the rich and famous, he did meet some of the actual players from the '88 Permian team, and also talked to Coach

Gaines on the bus trip back to the hotel.

Gaines told Gaebler and the other players that the movie, of course, was not 100 percent accurate and related to them the real events of that season the way he remembered them.

Early the next morning (Oct. 7) Gaebler and his dad were on a plane back to Chicago. The senior running back had to make Thursday's practice to prepare for the Mustangs Oct. 8 homecoming game against Lake Forest.

He said the movie inspired him, which was obvious against the Scouts, as he ran for 239 yards and three touchdowns on a mere four carries.

With whirlwind week behind him, Gaebler said he had Whitson to thank for the once-in-a-lifetime experience.

"(Whitson) was the one who nominated me and just being able to have that opportunity and get honored like that, I definitely won't forget that or how well my teammates took it and supported me," he said.

Randy Gaebler said he has seen all the hard work his son has put into the game of football and knows Jake deserves every accolade he gets.

"As a parent you swell up a little when things like this happen," he said. "I give Coach Whitson a lot of credit. He's got the guys believing in themselves. He's been a great teacher for Jake and it's those type of behind the scenes things that make me proud of Jake because I see it everyday."

even competing for a state title.

But there's several other up-and-comers searching for a shot at glory. Warren drew the No. 4 seed, and already has 20 wins. And Antioch, the winner of the summer league, is currently 19-3 and just six wins away from equaling the school record for victories.

And I haven't even mentioned teams like Grant or Mundelein, which has to be one of the best sub-.500 teams in the state because of its harrowing schedule. Think anyone wants to play either of them in the postseason?

"Right now we're very close to what the rest of the state has to offer, if not better," Szymkowiak said. "There's just so much parity across the board. There's so many good, developing programs, no team can walk into a gym anymore and overlook anyone."

While Szymkowiak stopped short of making any predictions, I will. A Lake County team will win state within four years. So to the rest of the state, I say do Lake County volleyball teams a favor for Rodney—show them some respect.

Kinney earns 1st state berth

By Rob Backus
Sports Editor

For two straight years, Antioch senior Joe Kinney knew the pain of coming up just short. That's because for two straight years, Kinney missed the cut for the state golf tournament by just one stroke.

But on a cool and windy afternoon Tuesday it was Kinney's turn to know the joys of success as he shot a 1-under-par 71 at Highland Springs Golf Course in Moline. The score was good enough to earn him a tie for medalist with Moline's Eric Barnett.

"It was a very outstanding performance," Antioch coach Jeff Moxley said. "The weather was really a factor. It was cool, rainy and windy. There was a little bit of everything but no sun."

The tie forced a three-hole playoff, which came just as the sun went down. And as the playoff started, it began to rain, saturating the course.

After both golfers parred their first two holes, Barnett parred the final playoff hole while Kinney bogeyed, giving Barnett 1st place in the Rock Island Sectional tournament.

But after the match, Moxley was nothing but happy about Kinney's performance.

"I'm very proud of him," Moxley said. "Everything went well for him. He was putting well; he was just on. He didn't let anything bother him."

Kinney will head down to Bloomington for the state tournament at The Den at Fox Creek Golf Course. Kinney has a 12:31 practice round scheduled for Thursday.

"It's a neutral course," Moxley said of The Den. "It has a bit of everything. It's long, hilly and there's a lot of sand. It's very challenging."

And on Oct. 15 Kinney has an 8:30 a.m. tee time, along with Sandburg's Larry Blatt, Barnett and Lyons' Mike DeRuntz.

"The conditions will be a factor again; everyone will have to be willing to play in inclement weather," Moxley said. "But he has as good a chance as anyone."

BOYS SOCCER

The boys soccer team won their first conference game of the season Oct. 12 when they visited Mundelein, winning 3-2.

All three of the Sequoits' goals came in the first half.

Alex McKenzie tallied the first score of the night for Antioch (7-8-3, 1-3-1) in the ninth minute when he sent a hard roller into the right side of the net from deep within the box. Austin Hahn made it 2-0 when he lofted a high-arching shot into the goal, then Matt Bohman rounded out the scoring with a goal in the final minute of the first half.

Head coach Bill Stafford said he was pleased with his team's intensity throughout the game.

"I just think from the outset the mentality of our guys offensively was to keep the pressure on and see if we couldn't find the net and we did," he said.

FOOTBALL

For the second straight week, Antioch ran into a buzz-saw defense, and for the second straight game the Sequoits had few answers as they dropped a home contest to Stevenson 14-7.

"Stevenson just played real good defense," Antioch coach Del Pechauer said.

Nick Nathan led the Sequoits with 101 yards on 21 carries, but that was all the offense Antioch could muster. The only Antioch points came in the third quarter as Nate Hughes recovered a fumble and rumbled 58 yards for the touchdown. Jack Irvin was the other defensive standout with 18 tackles.

"We did a lot of things good; it was a hard-hitting game," Pechauer said. "It was a classic defensive struggle and our defense has been getting better and better every week."

Unfortunately, Hughes was forced to leave the game in the third quarter with a bruised neck. He hasn't yet received clearance to play from team doctors.

The Sequoits (5-2, 1-2 Lake) will run into another outstanding defense in their homecoming game in undefeated Libertyville. Kick-off is set for 7:30 p.m.

"Libertyville will give us our toughest test so far," Pechauer said. "We just have to hang on to the ball as much as we can."

GIRLS GOLF

All season long Antioch senior Megan Placko had set the goal of making it downstate. And after a strong performance at regionals last week, she appeared set to do just that.

However, after carting an 88 at Schaumburg Golf Course on Monday, her dreams were dashed.

"I was really hoping Megan would do it," Antioch coach Jamie Walton said. "She shot a 78 in practice on Saturday so she had the capability to do well, she just didn't. She was driving really well, but she was overshooting the holes. And the greens were difficult; she had a lot of 3-putts, which is not very typical of her."

The entire Antioch team struggled as Alora Moore (89), Amy Kraft (95) and Becky Volkman (101) tallied high scores.

PREP PROFILES

Kate Hofeldt

This past summer, Antioch volleyball coach Bob Schenk was looking for some leadership during the summer league tournament.

"I was in the hospital and I couldn't be there for a match against Libertyville, so I called Kate (Hofeldt) and I asked her to be there," Schenk said.

Vacationing with her family in northern Wisconsin, senior Kate Hofeldt made a 200-mile trek by herself and helped lead Antioch to a victory over the Cats. The Sequoits defeated Warren in the finals to win the summer league title.

According to Schenk, that showing said a lot about Hofeldt as a person.

"She really stepped up that day; it just shows her determination," Schenk said. "The girls really looked up to her after that."

Antioch used that performance over the summer to prove its ability to the rest of Lake County as well. So far the Sequoits are 19-3 and are just six wins away from matching the school record for wins in a season.

"The summer really served as a springboard for us," Hofeldt said. "We're on our way to being one of the best teams in the area."

And Hofeldt has been there every step of the way to lead her team in kills.

"When we need a big kill she gives it to us," Schenk said. "She's also starting to learn that she doesn't have to hit the ball as hard as she can to get a kill; she can also look for open spots on the floor. Now she's a mixture of power and finesse."

That's something Hofeldt has made herself do, due to the multitude of strong teams in the North Suburban Conference.

"Our conference is so strong; there's so many good blockers on other teams," Hofeldt said. "We have to be smarter about where we put the ball." —

CARMEL

Carmel Football Coach

Corsairs bounce back with win

By Rob Backus

Sports Editor

No coach ever likes a loss, but perhaps Carmel was able to take something away from last week's loss to St. Patrick, the Corsairs' first regular season loss since 2001.

"Losing sucks but it gives you a chance to reevaluate," Carmel coach Andy Bitto said. "Hopefully, we learned some things."

Whatever the Corsairs learned, it appeared to work last Saturday in a 39-20 win over Nazareth Academy.

"We were able to correct some things we were doing wrong," Bitto said. "Plus we got back to what we do, which is run the option and score touchdowns."

The team used a punishing ground game to amass 366 yards on 43 carries. Jimmy Potempa led the way with 189 yards on 25 carries. Darren Davis (6 carries, 133 yards) and quarterback John Brennan (9 carries, 55 yards), who was filling in for the injured Tyler Ankney, also had solid efforts on the afternoon.

"Our linemen did a much better job of blocking against Nazareth," Bitto said.

Potempa opened the Carmel scoring on their first drive of the game on an 18-yard scamper to give the Corsairs a 7-0 advantage.

Unfortunately, the Roadrunners bounced right back with a score to knot the game at 7-7. Then Davis answered with one of his two scores of the game, from 26 yards out, to give the team a 13-7 lead after the opening quarter.

However, Nazareth continued to pound the ball on the ground, giving Carmel a taste of its own medicine, gaining 100-plus yards in the first half and actually holding a 20-13 lead heading into halftime.

"I was a little disappointed with our play in the first half," Bitto said. "We could have done a much better job on defense."

The Corsairs were able to clamp down in the second half, holding the Roadrunners to just four first downs.

And while Potempa was held in check throughout much of the opening half, he broke away for three scores in the second half, on runs of 1, 6 and 50 yards. Davis also added a 25-yard score late in the contest to ice the game.

"A lot of teams try to take Jimmy out of the game early and pound the heck out of him," Bitto said. "But we tell him to keep pumping it in there and the game will come to him. He'll just have to take a beating until it opens up for him."

Potempa was humble about his career-high four touchdowns, instead focusing on the team's accomplishments.

"It (the four scores) felt pretty nice," Potempa said. "But it was more important for us to get the win."

Bitto was also happy just to get the win.

"It was a nice win for us," said Bitto, whose team improved to 6-1 overall and 6-1 in the ESCC. "Hopefully it's the beginning of a new streak."

Mandy Schellinger, playing for Carmel, taps the ball over the net in the Corsairs' match against Nazareth Academy.

Up next for the Corsairs is St. Viator, a team similar to Nazareth, according to Bitto.

"They like to throw the ball a lot; we'll have our hands full," Bitto said. "If we play like we did against Nazareth, we'll be fine. If we play like we did against St. Pat's, we won't."

Carmel will take on St. Viator at home on Oct. 15 at 7:30 p.m.

BOYS SOCCER

Carmel had its only match of the week, a Monday showdown with St. Joseph, postponed due to lack of referees, but the Corsairs still head into the rest of the season with a positive outlook on the season.

"The season has been going well," said Carmel coach Chris Rudolph, whose team currently sits with a 12-2-2 record. "The team has good chemistry. They're also very coachable. We're all on the same page."

According to Rudolph, the team has been led offensively by forwards Anthony Cipolla (9 goals, 2 assists) and Yared Ogunro (4 goals, 6 assists) and midfielders Chris Fidlow (8 goals, 6 assists) and Jonathan Zegar (1 goal, 4 assists). Sean Stefanski has also chipped in with six goals and three assists.

GIRLS GOLF

Junior Kate White earned her first trip downstate, shooting a 76 to tie for second place with Highland Park's Beth Weinstein at Schumburg Golf Course on Monday. Libertyville's Nicole Schachner won the sectional title with a 2-over-par 74. The state meet will take place Oct. 15-16 at Stone Creek Golf Course in downstate Makanda.

GIRLS VOLLEYBALL

Carmel dropped a pair of matches last week, losing to Nazareth (12-25, 17-25) and Bishop McNamara (25-11, 22-25, 11-25).

Against Nazareth, Teresa Ogrinc (5 kills, 3 blocks), Erin Walsh (4 kills, 3 blocks), Erica Masini (8 assists) and Jessica LeClaire (3 digs, 2 aces) led the Corsairs and against Bishop McNamara, Abby Sup (8 kills, 5 digs), Pam Stanton (11 digs), Walsh (10 kills, 2 blocks), Masini (14 assists) and Kelley Semens (10 assists) led the way for Carmel (15-16-1).

PREP PROFILES

Jimmy Potempa

Last season, Carmel football coach Andy Bitto knew he had something special in then-freshman Jimmy Potempa.

"We brought up some select freshman and some sophomores at the end of last season, and they were helping us out in practice," Bitto said. "And so Potempa was going 100 mph into a tackling dummy and got a gash on his nose. Every time his heart beat, his nose gushed out blood so we had to send him to the hospital."

Six stitches later, Potempa was sent home from the hospital. But he was back out at practice the next day.

"It wasn't a big deal," Potempa said of the injury. "And I don't like missing practice."

And it's been clear to Bitto since day one that Potempa is a special player.

"He's a throwback," Bitto said. "He would play with no helmet if he had to."

Potempa has fit nicely into the lineage of Carmel fullbacks, following in the footsteps of Eric Luna and Jon Popovitch. But Bitto thinks Potempa can be even better.

"We've never had a kid quite like him," Bitto said. "Popovitch had great balance and broke tackles and Luna was hard to hit, but now we have a kids that can break tackles and run away from people."

Well, it's certain that Carmel may never have had a startling fullback as small as Potempa, who stands just 5-7 and weighs only 157 pounds.

"The opposing linebackers can't see him," Bitto said. "He squirts through the line and if he gets through the linebackers he's gone."

Opposing defenses had better stand up and take notice now, as Potempa has gained over 600 yards on the ground this season.

"It's nice to be counted on," Potempa said. —By Rob Backus

Bulldogs roll in homecoming win

By Steve Peterson
Sports Reporter

Now this is what homecoming games are supposed to be all about. With the exception of a few minutes when Wauconda had gained a 7-7 tie on a short run by QB Andrew Baker and another when top placekicker Anthony Santella lined up for a 52-yard field goal, it was all Grant in a 55-13 win.

Grant's Bulldogs are now on top in the NSC Prairie Division at 3-0, 3-4 overall, but must face a critical Oct. 15 contest at North Chicago. North Chicago dropped a controversial 13-12 decision to Round Lake.

Quarterback Eric Lostrosio, helped by a talented wide receiving crew including Jeff Cukla (2 TDs, 168 yards) and Matt Behm (26 yards), threw for 177 yards passing on a 7-10 day, with one interception. Back-up QB Rick Howell, long cured of an early-season ankle injury, scored three TDs himself, on runs of 15, 38 and 38 yards.

"It is nice to know that if I got injured, someone like Rick could come in. He is pretty good. It is all the team. It starts with the line. It was a good day today. We came out, started out slow, but after we picked it up, it went well," Lostrosio said.

"It all goes back to the seniors. I am awful proud of them. They kept the focus on the game," Grant coach Mark Barczak said. "I hate to revisit it, but no one on the Grant side was jumping up and down after we played Warren (a loss). It made us come a little bit closer."

Grant lost four games to probable playoff teams before righting its fortunes. Grant beat Vernon Hills, Round Lake and now Wauconda en route to back to playoff contention.

Grant gained an early break when Chris Rosado recovered the opening kickoff at the Wauconda 30. Lostrosio scored the first TD, from 11 yards out, and a kick by Pam Staton gave the Bulldogs a 7-0 lead.

Baker's TD run of 6 yards (26 yards for the game) answered it. He also had a 13-yard run and completed a 9-yard pass to Kris Gerke. Wauconda had 126 yards rushing, 7-17 passing for 19 yards.

Cukla snared a 30-yard TD pass from two Wauconda defenders for a 14-7 Grant lead. Santella, whose field goal two weeks ago gave Wauconda its first win in 30 games, lined up for a 52-yard field goal try following an interception by Josh Patterson. The kick try failed, and WHS was never close.

Lostrosio found Cukla wide open and he did the rest on a 67-yard jaunt for a 20-7 Grant lead and the host Bulldogs were off to the races.

Eric Horvath (eight carries, 128 yards) saw more of the runs in the second half, scoring from 31 yards out for a 27-7 lead right after halftime. Rosado tallied on a short run, from 6 yards out and the 34-7 tally let the celebration begin for the alums. Howell's first of his three scores upped the lead to 40-7.

Afterward, Barczak spread the praise around, for offensive coordinator Cramer, to defensive coordinator Curt Rous, to special teams coach Tom Evans and to long-time helpers Fred Loffredo and Len Siatta.

PAT specialist Pam Staton had a great homecoming. She was queen and booted 7-8 extra points.

"Last year, we lost three games by a field goal. We feel very confident with Pam," Barczak said.

"Everyone has been so supportive. It has been a special senior year for me," Staton said.

BOYS SOCCER

The second half of the soccer season continued to be a rough stretch for Grant, as the Bulldogs lost to North Chicago last week.

Grant dropped a 5-2 decision to the Warhawks in NSC Prairie Division play. Grant is at 8-7-3 overall.

Bryan Mark and Ian Hunter scored goals for Grant.

GIRLS VOLLEYBALL

Grant High improved to 17-8 for the volleyball season with a 2-0 win over Union Grove, Wis. Grant won 29-27, 25-22 for the non-conference win.

Stephanie Coats was 7-8 serving and Stephanie Fain was 8-8. Tara Guidry had 11-13 with three aces and Ashley Precht was 11-12 with two aces.

Coats was 58-61 with 13 assists setting.

Danielle Eiler led the way in attack with 15-19 with eight kills while Becka Gonyo was 1-15 with five kills and Guidry had 11-13 with four kills.

Grant is the eighth seed in the upcoming sectional tournament.

The Bulldogs dropped a 2-0 decision to Libertyville in NSC cross-over action.

Grant is the No. 8 seed at the Warren sectional. The Bulldogs face No. 9 Vernon Hills at Lake Zurich in the second match on Oct. 27. The regional final is Oct. 30. The other area match at Lake Zurich is Carmel vs. No. 16 Wauconda Oct. 26.

GIRLS TENNIS

Grant High topped all North Suburban Conference Prairie Division schools with 10.5 points at the NSC girls tennis meet.

"That is the best we have done for seven or eight years," said coach Glenn Hofeldt.

Grant No. 3 singles player Katy Postlewait advanced to the third place match, losing to Warren's Mary Gouris.

The doubles tandem of Lindsay Dresser and Chrissy Gratz was 1-2, concluding the day last on the court in a three-set loss to Libertyville. Cat Savage at No. 1 singles was also 1-2.

The same foes will be at the sectional tournament this weekend, Oct. 15-16. "Sectionals are always tough," Hofeldt said. Antioch hosts the sectional meet.

PREP PROFILES

Eric Lostrosio

It is a given that this is an age of specialization in sports, a left-handed reliever can pitch well into his 40s in baseball. At the other end of the spectrum, demands of year-round competition make even the marginal athletes have to choose at an early age.

Grant High prides itself on multiple-sport athletes, a throw back, if you will. For year's success has been gained in football, then wrestling-basketball or baseball and track in the spring. The latest example of variety is a good thing, is Eric Lostrosio.

"Here at Grant, you will play. I don't know when I see teams with 95 players on their roster if that is a good thing," Lostrosio said.

Lostrosio punts, kicks off, and guides offensive coordinator Jim Cramer's offense for Grant, 3-4, but 3-0 in NSC Prairie. He had a 7-10 passing game against Wauconda, for 177 yards in a 55-13 Grant win. Grant had 360 total yards in offense and has clipped the 1,000-yard mark in passing yards this season, with at least two games to go.

Lostrosio only has to look to the Grant High coaching staff as examples of successes of multiple sport athletes, including sophomore assistant coach Aaron Behm.

"It was a good day today. We came out slow, but after we picked it up, everything went well," Lostrosio said after the 55-13 win over Wauconda. He was 7-10 passing with one interception as the Grant High offense amassed more than 350 yards.

He passed the 500-yard passing mark in the fifth week, when he was 38-78 overall for 720 yards. The totals have just kept adding up after a 27-7 win over Round Lake and Saturday's 55-point Grant effort. That is 110 points since the 0-4 start against playoff teams Mundelein, Johnsburg, Grant and Antioch. -By Steve Peterson

GRAYSLAKE

"My girls are just the best of friends. I don't have to tell them to cheer, and they bond on and off the court."

Jeanna Beerbower
Grayslake Girls' Volleyball Coach

Quote

Camaraderie paying off for Rams

By Rob Backus

Sports Editor

It's been said that it doesn't matter how you begin the season, all that matters is how you finish it. And while Grayslake struggled to start the year, volleyball coach Jeanna Beerbower liked what she saw from her team.

"My girls are the best of friends," Beerbower said. "I don't have to tell them to cheer, and they bond on and off the court."

The camaraderie has appeared to pay off of late as Grayslake has already won a pair of Fox Valley Conference matches, after going winless a year ago. The team has also already surpassed last season's win total with two weeks still left before the postseason begins.

Junior Gabby Pate, a three-year varsity starter, has already noticed the difference on this year's team.

"It's definitely been a positive season," Pate said. "It's a totally different atmosphere. It makes everything a lot more fun."

According to Beerbower, the reason for her team's improved play is simple. "The girls are finally starting to see their full potential," Beerbower said.

Grayslake opened the week with a 25-16, 25-19 win over McHenry. Rochie Vergara (12-of-13 serving, 3 aces), Megan Patterson (10-of-11, 3 kills, block), Jill Smart (8-of-8, 4 kills), Pate (9-of-10, 5 kills), Nicole Sarver (13 assists, 4 digs) and Janice Johnson (4 digs) all had solid matches for the Rams.

"Our serve reception was great," Beerbower said. "And because of it we were able to hit. If your passing's not there, forget it. We have a saying, 'Nothing falls.' You better dive and get that ball."

The Rams were doing plenty of diving Tuesday night against Crystal Lake Central, but failed to reach several balls on key points, falling to the Tigers 25-23, 25-21.

Sarver (11 assists, 2 aces), Ashleigh Swearingen (3 kills), Smart (3 kills) and Pate (5 digs, 3 kills) contributed in the loss.

"We just couldn't pick up tips at the net," said Beerbower, whose team fell to 6-18 overall and 2-6 in the FVC with the loss. "And we missed serves, and we never miss serves. Plus we weren't able to turn our mistakes around fast enough so they (CLC) kept making runs on us."

Despite the loss on Tuesday, Beerbower remains confident in her team heading into the final matches of the season.

"I think we can win both of our remaining FVC games," Beerbower said. "Then we have the tough Crosstown Classic."

At the Crosstown Classic, which takes place at Libertyville and Vernon Hills High School on Oct. 25-26, Grayslake will face Warren, its first round opponent in the postseason. In the meantime, the Rams will be at Woodstock Oct. 19 at 7:15 p.m.

BOYS SOCCER

The boys soccer team defeated Crystal Lake Central 4-2 in a Fox Valley Conference match-up Oct. 7.

Sophomore forward Manny Carillo paced the Rams with two goals and an assist in the game.

The teams were tied at one a piece heading into halftime but Grayslake (7-10, 3-4) was able to get into an offensive rhythm in the second half.

Senior midfielder Kurt Smyth got the rally started with a goal off an assist from Carrillo, who scored the following two goals to put the game out of reach. Carillo was assisted on his first goal by senior midfielder Ben White, while Smyth assisted the second.

CROSS COUNTRY

Both the boys and girls cross country teams participated in a Fox Valley Conference dual meet against Crystal Lake Central, Dundee Crown and host Cary Grove Oct. 7.

The girls lost 50-15 to Cary Grove, 48-17, to Dundee Crown 48-17 and to Crystal Lake Central 30-28.

Jenna Kuehl was the top finisher for the Rams, coming in 11th with a time of 20:46.

The boys lost to Cary Grove 46-15, to Dundee Crown 45-16 and to Crystal Lake Central 49-15.

FOOTBALL

The boys football team lost to McHenry 34-6 Oct. 8.

The loss officially limited the Rams (2-5, 2-4) from the playoffs with only two games remaining in the season.

Grayslake's only score of the night came at the end of a 15-play, 74-yard drive that was capped by a nine-yard touchdown pass from quarterback Evan Jones to Brian Centella. That score tied the game at 7-7, and it would never be that close again.

The Warriors (4-3, 4-2) scored on their next two possessions to make the score 21-7 and never looked back.

PREPFILES

Gabby Pate

Earlier this season, Grayslake junior volleyball player Gabby Pate missed a few practices, and her teammates felt her absence.

"The girls all said practice wasn't the same without her," Grayslake coach Jeanna Beerbower said. "She's like the class clown of the team; every team needs someone like her. She just loosens things up."

That's one of the reasons Beerbower chose Pate as one of the team captains, along with senior Amy Anderson. There's also another reason.

"If I asked her to run through a wall she would," Beerbower said. "She's a very hard worker and a very vocal leader in a humorous way."

"I'm just that way at volleyball because that's where I get my fun," Pate said.

While she likes to joke around off the floor and during practice, when it's game time she's a totally different person.

"It's like a switch flips in my head when I get between the lines," Pate said.

She also has some obvious skills on the floor.

"She's a very good all-around player," Pate said. "She's a very good server and our best hitter."

In fact, Pate has played three different positions in her three-year varsity career, defensive specialist, outside hitter and even setter at times.

"I could play her anywhere," Beerbower said. "She's like a jack of all trades."

"I just to whatever I can to help the team," Pate said. "Anywhere they need me to be, I'll be there."

Pate's quirky nature also applies to her hitting, as she swings left-handed.

"There's not a lot of lefty outside hitters around," Beerbower said. "She has a different angle on hits which makes it harder to block the ball. That gives her an advantage." —By Rob Backus

Libertyville Football Coach

Defense leads the way in Cats' win

Sports Reporter

Libertyville's offense has garnered a lot of praise this season.

But what about the defense?

While that side of the ball hasn't earned as much attention this season, it has consistently come through for the Wildcats in key situations.

And there was no better time for the defense to step up than in the Wildcats' North Suburban Conference Lake Division match-up at Warren Oct. 8.

While the offense did its part in the first half, throwing 24 points up on the board, the defense made sure the Blue Devils wouldn't play catch up in the second half, limiting Warren's attack to 184 total yards in the game.

"It's one of the biggest games we've had in years," head coach Randy Kuceyeski said. "This was probably the best Warren team we've faced in the last ten years."

The game puts Libertyville (7-0, 3-0) in the driver's seat for its fifth straight NSC Lake Division title with two games left on the schedule.

Warren (5-2, 2-1), on the other hand, was unable to get their usually strong ground game off and running.

"We stepped up big when we had to," Libertyville senior linebacker Matt Norcia said of his team's defense, which tallied five sacks. "We had a big defensive effort. We had to shut down their running game. Warren's a great team but we just put a lot of emphasis on getting pressure on the offensive line."

Junior running back Mitchell Moore, who rushed for 282 yards and scored three touchdowns against Antioch Oct. 2, was held to 95 total yards (82 rushing, 13 receiving) and one touchdown against the Wildcats.

Moore could have almost doubled that yardage when he ran 79 yards for touchdown at the beginning of the second half. But the score was called back due to a holding penalty.

The Blue Devils got the ball back at the Libertyville 49-yard line and proceeded to put together a nine-play drive downfield that ended with an eight-yard touchdown carry by Moore.

Warren then recovered an on-side kick and the Wildcats' defense had to go right back to work, forcing the Blue Devils into a three-and-out. But Libertyville had their share of three-and-outs as well; meaning the defense saw a majority of the playing time in the second half.

"It was a great second half by (Warren)," Kuceyeski said. "I give them a lot of credit. But our defense did their job when they had to. They were on the field for the whole second half it seemed like."

Libertyville High School's Kyle Nader stiff-arms Warren's Willie Brooks during a 24-14 win over the Blue Devils.

The first half was a different story, however, as senior quarterback Brett Lancaster (152 yards, one touchdown) and senior running back Kyle Nader paced the Wildcats to a 24-7 halftime lead.

Libertyville's first score came on the first drive of the game with a 19-yard run by senior running back Tom Sitz.

Warren answered on the ensuing possession when senior quarterback Garren Zerfass connected with senior wide receiver A.J. Kegg on a 15-yard touchdown pass to make it 7-7 going into the second quarter.

In the second half Nader (83 total yards) had a nine-yard run into the end zone and grabbed a 50-yard pass from Lancaster for a touchdown.

Senior kicker Matt Partain hit a 28-yard field goal to round out the scoring for Libertyville.

Kuceyeski said the Wildcats had some nerves at the beginning of the game due to its magnitude, but after that the team settled down.

"We made some adjustments," he said. "We were a little excited to play our first series and after that I think we did a pretty good job overall."

GIRLS TENNIS

Libertyville No.1 singles player, junior Sam Kintzel, won the North Suburban Conference tournament Oct. 10, beating Lake Forest's Marissa Lambropoulos 7-5, 6-3 to take the conference crown.

Kintzel also beat Christina Pederson of Antioch 6-0, 6-0 and Stevenson's Ayaka Matsui 6-1, 6-2 en route to the title.

The Wildcats finished third overall at the tournament, behind champion Lake Forest and Stevenson, with 22 points.

GIRLS GOLF

The Libertyville girls golf team had a strong showing at the Schaumburg Sectional Oct. 11, tying Barrington for first place with a school-record score of 343.

Junior Nicole Schachner was the individual medalist at the meet with a score of 74, beating out Carmel's Kate White by two strokes.

Junior Nikki Miller (83), freshman Alex Hein (91) and senior Natalie Chase (83) rounded out the scoring for Libertyville.

The Wildcats will next travel to the state meet, which takes place Oct. 16, for the first time since 1996.

GIRLS SWIMMING

The girls swim team beat Vernon Hills in a dual meet 112-60 Oct. 7.

Senior Heather Kiluk led the Wildcats, taking first place in 100-yard butterfly with a time of 1:00.67 and clocking a 1:02.27 in the 100-yard backstroke.

Libertyville also took first place in the 200-yard medley relay with a time of 1:59.74 and the 400-yard free relay with a time of 4:03.01.

PREPFILES

Matt Norcia

Standing six feet tall and weighing 205 pounds, senior Matt Norcia is the biggest linebacker on the Libertyville football team.

However, he said opposing offensive lines still tend to misjudge him because they think he's too small to wreak any havoc at the line of scrimmage.

That just makes it all the more enjoyable when he busts through the line to knock down the quarterback.

"I just like the intensity," he said. "I may not be the biggest guy out there but I think I have the speed and the strength and a lot of linemen underestimate me which makes it that much easier to get around them."

While the Wildcats defense may not be that big this season, they make up for any lack of size with strength and speed.

The defense is always quick to the ball and has been credited with shutting down several of the area's top offensive players, including Mundelein's Jake Gaebler, Warren's Mitchell Moore and North Chicago's Josh Allen.

Head coach Randy Kuceyeski said Norcia has been a key element in Libertyville's defensive prowess this season.

"He's got great instincts," he said. "He's probably one of the best linebackers we've ever had. With his nose for the football, his quickness and his strength, he's got the whole package."

Norcia was also a starter on last year's 7A state runner-up squad said the obvious goal for this year's team is to get back to the championship game and take the state title, adding that they are on the right track so far this year.

"It's been a total dream season," he said. "You couldn't ask for anything more. Last year we went to the state championship but I feel just as pumped up this year as I did last year, if not more. I just love this team. The chemistry on it is great."—By Matt Pera

Mustangs searching for intensity

By Matt Pera

Sports Reporter

For the entire season, the Mundelein boys soccer team's coaching staff has stressed the importance of maintaining intensity throughout an entire match.

But, in a North Suburban Conference Lake Division game against Antioch, the Mustangs were unable to do so. They came out strong in the second half, holding the ball in their offensive third and attacking the net for much of the forty minutes.

In the first half, however, Mundelein was unable to get into a rhythm and had a hard time fending off Antioch's offensive charge, losing 3-2.

Mundelein assistant coach David Ekstrom said the Mustangs inconsistency has plagued them for much of the season.

"We've played very well in spurts like we played at the end of the (Antioch) game," he said. "But we haven't done that for 80 minutes and that's why we end up losing by a goal."

Antioch (7-8-3, 1-3-1) opened the game with an aggressive offensive attack, spreading the ball throughout the entire field and making good chances in the box.

That style of play resulted in all three of the Sequoits' goals before the halftime buzzer sounded.

Ekstrom said the Mustangs had a hard time matching Antioch's high energy initially.

"I think (Antioch) is a good team and they came out ready to play," Ekstrom said. "We didn't play at the intensity level we have to play at in order to be successful. Once we got down a couple of goals we realized if we didn't pick it up it was going to be really bad and the guys picked it up and played at the intensity level we had to have."

The first goal came in the ninth minute of play when Antioch's Alex McKenzie found the ball deep in the box and fired it past Mundelein keeper Brian Sheehan.

The Sequoits continued to create opportunities with good passing and solid defense to start fast breaks. They scored again in the 16th minute when Austin Hahn lofted a high, arching shot over the head of Sheehan to make the score 2-0.

Less than three minutes later, the Mustangs (5-9-2, 0-5) finally found an answer when junior midfielder Matt Crowley headed in a corner kick from senior midfielder Mike Sommers.

But Antioch wasn't done. Hahn broke loose on a fast break with less than a minute to go in the half and fired a shot on the goal. Sheehan deflected the ball but the Sequoits' Matt Bohmann was right there to send the rebound into the back of the net.

But their sole score of the second half came in 52nd minute on an own-goal by Antioch.

The Mustangs have had a hard time in close conference games all season, losing by one to Stevenson and Libertyville as well.

"We could have been 3-2 (in conference) if we could string 80 solid minutes together, but we haven't been able to do that," Ekstrom said.

The Mustangs' final attempt at a conference win this season will be Oct. 7, when they take on Round Lake.

FOOTBALL

The Mustangs were trying a lot of new things for their Oct. 8 homecoming game against Lake Forest.

They sported new black jerseys, they started a new quarterback (junior Ian Sanchez), and they broadcast the game on World Wide Web for the first time in school history.

But how about getting a win?

The Mundelein football team had not won their homecoming game for over a decade.

But the Mustangs (5-2, 1-2) ended that streak, demolishing Lake Forest 49-13.

"It was really intense," senior running back Jake Gaebler said. "We really stepped up and played big and everyone was fired up for the game."

Gaebler led Mundelein in the blowout with a combined 239 yards on just three carries (173 yards) and one reception (66 yards). He also had two interceptions in the first quarter.

Gaebler got the Mustangs' off to a fast start, busting loose for an 84-yard touchdown run to make the score 7-0 in the first quarter.

But it was the second quarter that put the game out of reach for good, as Mundelein put 35 points on the board.

It started when Sanchez hit senior wide receiver Warren Arnold (who had started at quarterback for the first six games) for a 39-yard touchdown pass.

Then it was Gaebler's turn again, as he turned on the jets for an 85-yard touchdown run. Sophomore running back Wade Leppert then got in on the action with a 10-yard run, followed by 74-yard run by senior running back Steve Tonsul and Gaebler's 66-yard catch.

Tonsul capped the game off with a five-yard touchdown run in the third quarter.

PREPFILES

Matt Crowley

Mundelein junior midfielder Matt Crowley is not new to the game of soccer.

He started playing at the age of five and hasn't stopped since. The early exposure to the game earned him a spot on the varsity team as a freshman.

The fact that he has played soccer for well over half of his life is evident on both ends of the field.

Crowley said his versatility can be attributed to the coaching staff's emphasis on being a complete player.

"I think that it's put in us early in the season by (head coach Chris Sell) that you have to play both sides of the ball," he said. "I think it's important for all players to play both sides of the ball."

On offense Crowley is able to make good touches to his teammates for chances on the goal and is a scoring threat himself whenever he's inside or near the box.

Defensively, he plays at a high intensity level as well with a constant aggressive pursuit of the ball.

But aside from the physical aspects of the game, Crowley said he enjoys the mental challenges.

"I like the speed of the game," he said. "I think it's really fast and I think that is a great quality about soccer, that in order to be a key player you have to be thinking two steps ahead of the game."

Crowley said the mental aspects of the game also allow him to maintain a level head, adding that, in an aggressive match, out-thinking the opponent is often as important as outplaying him.

"You have to realize that if something happens to you like you get fouled or something you have to think, 'well if this is how it's going to be played then I have to just rise above that and play that much better,'" he said. -By Matt Pera

Panthers eke out 1st win

By Steve Peterson

Sports Reporter

Round Lake's football team came to North Chicago out to ruin the Warhawks' homecoming and gain some much-needed self-confidence.

The Panthers came in and did the job, but it was not decided until a Mike Hughes tackle of Josh Allen at the Round Lake 4-yard-line. It was a curious end, as North Chicago had apparently taken an 18-13 lead on a 5-yard TD run by Allen. But Allen celebrated too early, during the play, and he was penalized and the points taken off the scoreboard. It was still Round Lake 13, North Chicago 12.

"This is a huge win. We left it all on the field. They were talking some trash to us. They keyed on me so much, it opened it up for Ted Silvetti," said Round Lake senior Craig Brock. Brock sealed the deal with a 10-yard run for the first down with 2:10 remaining.

Jake Powell was another Panthers hero, as well as kicker Andres Rios. Powell blocked a point-after try for North Chicago, after a 50-yard TD jaunt for Allen.

"I usually stay back, but this play, I rushed," Powell said.

"It is all about the character of the kids," said Round Lake coach Kevin Dempsey. "It was all the seniors and I give credit to the assistant coaches, too. We did the little things that won the game. I give a lot of credit to the offensive line. They had to do it and they did it."

"It was four quarters of football, that's all," Silvetti said.

Of the long TD Silvetti said, "The line-backer tried to tackle me, but bounced off. We came into the game with nothing to lose."

Silvetti rushed for 139 yards in 23 carries. He was Johnny-on-the-spot for a 3-yard TD run after a recovered fumble for a 6-0 second quarter lead. Rios booted an extra point for a 7-0 margin. Allen scored just two plays later, but it was 7-6 at halftime.

Round Lake drove, but a second first half score was prevented by a fumble.

"It is a huge win, coming back after we lost to Wauconda," Silvetti said. He said the offensive line did a great job.

Round Lake, 1-6, 1-2 NSC Prairie, hosts Zion-Benton Oct. 15. The Panthers finish the season at Vernon Hills Oct. 22.

GIRLS VOLLEYBALL

Like all eighth graders, Brittany Kucia wished that high school would start soon while she was attending Magee Middle School.

"I could not wait to play volleyball for the freshman team. Then I got on the varsity. I would have loved to get moved up (to varsity) and I did," Kucia said.

Kucia is not only on the Round Lake High varsity volleyball team as a freshman, but she so impressed head coach Arian Colton at pre-season camp that she made the team as a starting setter. She has been quarterbacking the volleyball team's offense ever since.

Kucia joins underclassmen Miranda Daily, Kamila Lakoma, Amanda Scrivner, who are sophomores and juniors Laura Daily, Jamie Gallinati and Alma Rodriguez and seniors Kim Nicoline, Alyssa Shults and Nicole Walters as players who see a lot of playing time in a rebuilding year.

Colton said the squad does not let losses, such as a 25-6, 25-10 loss to Stevenson, bother them.

"It is more exciting. We have stepped it up at times. I love the competition," Kucia said. "I can't wait until they are seniors and I am a junior. I just believe that we can do it."

Kucia was captain on the Magee team for two years, battling Antioch Upper Grade as the chief rival. Now it is the likes of Warren and Grant High.

"They are seizing the day," Colton said of the underclassmen.

The Panthers were not a factor as a team against the Patriots, but Kucia ran the offense for a few long volleys. She scored one point on a subtle shot over the net. The Panthers looked better in the second game, with a 1-0 lead on a point by Walters, and staying as close as 9-4. Walters had a kill for a 16-9 deficit.

Round Lake lost to Grayslake 25-21 and 25-18 and to Grant 25-23, 25-9 and Wauconda 25-21, 25-15 in recent home meets. The Panthers don't mind that they are the last and No. 17 seed in the upcoming sectional. They plan on surprising some folks, much like a freshman did in pre-season camp this summer.

CROSS COUNTRY

Josh Litke was the top Round Lake finisher in the boys cross country meet, "The Art Campbell Classic" in North Chicago.

Litke placed 33rd overall with a time of 18:20. Tim Theobald was next for RLHS with a 19:26, for 41 and Brian Mendralla was right behind in 19:29. Chris Crecchio had a 21:25 and Matt Siems a 23:01 to round out Round Lake's boys runners.

Sophomore Ashley Hussain led the girls efforts for the Panthers with a 21:41, making the top 30. Whitney Lang was 44th in 23:36.

Round Lake had 226 points in the boys meet, just behind Waukegan's 225.

Both Round Lake squads are at the NSC meet at Lakewood Forest Preserve Oct. 16.

PREP PROFILES

Ted Silvetti

The post-game celebration had been a long time coming for Round Lake.

The Panthers were welcomed back to school as cheerleaders sang the school song and adults tooted their car horns. The reason? A total team effort that knocked off NSC Prairie Division co-leader North Chicago 13-12.

The leader through the thick and thin has been Round Lake running back/line-backer Ted Silvetti.

Silvetti had a career night on both offense and defense against the Warhawks. He rushed 23 times for 139 yards and score two touchdowns. The first was a 3-yard run after a fumble recovery, the second a 61-yarder as he broke free into the NC secondary. He was in on a total of 17 plays on defense, from solo tackles, to assists to sacks.

"It was a good, huge win. If we win the next two, we can tie for first in the division," Silvetti said.

Silvetti, through his true-grit style of football, has gained the respect of teammates and foes alike. He started in those roles with the youth football Spartans and never stopped playing all-out ever since. He started the North Chicago game with a seven-yard tackle for loss on defense. Silvetti and Brock had had a valiant comeback to forge a 21-21 tie against Wauconda two weeks earlier, only to see the squad fall in a double overtime heart-breaker, 24-21.

"Silvetti is the heart and soul of the team," said teammate Craig Brock. "He means a lot and also played his game. He was there and did what he had to do. We put four quarters together and came out strong."

Silvetti had six solo tackles, two sacks and nine assists from his linebacker spot.

Brock said the Warhawks were keying on him so much, allowing Silvetti to run for more yards. Brock ended with 37 yards in the win. —By Steve Peterson

Cougars get monkey off back

By Matt Pera
Sports Reporter

The Vernon Hills football team walked off the field after their game against Zion-Benton Oct. 8 feeling a bit lighter.

The weight of a 0-6 start had finally been lifted off their collective shoulders with a 35-28 win over the Zee-Bees in North Suburban Conference Prairie Division play.

The Cougars (1-6, 1-2) came into this season as the defending division champs, having compiled a 7-2 record during the 2003 season.

But after a tough non-conference schedule this year put the team at 0-4, head coach Tony Monken said they had a hard time recovering.

The come-from-behind fashion in which Vernon Hills won definitely provided some excitement in Zion-Benton's homecoming game.

The Zee-Bees (1-6, 1-2) struck first and seemed to be in control for much of the opening half.

Down 14-0, the Cougars' offense found themselves pinned at their own 20-yard line late in the second quarter when they fumbled the ball and Zion-Benton recovered.

Staring a 21-0 halftime deficit in the face, the defense came through with a big play on the Zee-Bees' ensuing possession when junior defensive back Rajee Harris intercepted a pass and ran it back 77 yards for a touchdown.

The pick made the score 14-7 heading into halftime with the Cougars feeling like they had snatched back some of the momentum.

And that momentum continued to build in the second half.

Vernon Hills scored on their opening drive of the third quarter with a long push downfield, resulting in an eight-yard touchdown run by junior running back James DeFrancesco to tie the game at 14.

On the Cougars' next drive, senior running back James Bedolla, who rushed for 134 yards and two touchdowns on the night, scored on a 2-yard run.

After going up 21-14, Vernon Hills never looked back. Rick Semerou scored on a quarterback option play and Bedolla had a five-yard touchdown run in the fourth quarter for the Cougars final points of the game.

As the game came to a close, Vernon Hills senior lineman Max Troyak said the team was not sure how to react to finally getting a win.

"Everyone was so happy that they were just speechless," he said. "We were overwhelmed by the win."

Monken said his team never gave up despite losing six straight games. He added that they had entered each game confident they could win. But big plays from the opposition have often left the Cougars just short.

"Our kids have battled the whole way through," he said. "They could have quit but we have yet to see that. We come into a football game and they think they should walk away a winner."

participated in the Lake County Invitational at Foss Park in North Chicago Oct. 12.

The Cougars' Wes Sheldon finished sixth individually with a time of 16:08.

Vernon Hills' head coach Doug Williamson said Sheldon has the ability to run stronger in the finish.

"I've been telling him that running a few seconds faster isn't going to hurt any more (at the end of the race)," he said.

GIRLS VOLLEYBALL

After the girls volleyball team was blown out in a match against Antioch Oct. 6, head coach Kathleen Rizzo said the team had to learn to play hard at all times.

"There was no excuse for (the Antioch) match," she said.

The Cougars rebounded Oct. 7 when they defeated Highland Park 25-8, 25-21.

Junior setter Anka Neimczewska led the team with 19/19 setting, seven assists, two blocks, an ace and a kill.

Vernon Hills also got solid performances from sophomore outside hitter Jessica Price (nine digs, six kills, four aces) and sophomore middle hitter Kasey Kiepora (four kills, three blocks).

PREP PROFILES

Max Troyak

Senior offensive/defensive lineman Max Troyak does not see much downtime with the Vernon Hills football team.

The Cougars captain is often in a game for nearly the entire 48 minutes.

"Max is a big a piece of our team success," head coach Tony Monken said. "Other than a couple special teams plays, he doesn't leave the field."

The 6-foot, three-inch, 230-pound lineman has played for the Vernon Hills varsity squad since his sophomore year, when he joined the offensive line.

Last season Monken added him to the defensive side of the ball as a tackle, a move he attributed to Troyak's size and tenacity.

"He's a force on the field," Monken said. "You can't single block him. There is no one I've seen that can go one on one with him. He understands what we're doing."

And what the Cougars are trying to do, like any team, is win games.

Vernon Hills got off to a rough start, losing their first six match-ups before finally beating Zion-Benton 35-28 Oct. 8.

With two games left, Troyak said the team is intent on putting a couple more notches in the win column.

"Everyone feels like we need to get a streak going in the other direction," he said.

Troyak said an important part of success on the field is team unity. To that end, he has been vocal in getting his teammates together for Friday night pre-game meals at a local restaurant. He and fellow Cougars also get together on the weekends to watch NFL games.

He said that developing that strong bond makes the games all the more meaningful.

"When game time comes you're playing not only for yourself but you're playing for the team," he said. —By Matt Pera

Tie costs Devils NSC title

By Rob Backus

Sports Editor

It's been said that a tie is like kissing your sister, but in the match-up between Warren and Stevenson Tuesday night, the Pats would have been extremely satisfied with a tie.

Both Stevenson and the Devils were unbeaten in the North Suburban Lake division, but the Pats came in with a 3-0-1 record while Warren sported a 2-0-2 record.

With wins earning three points and ties earning one in the standings, Warren needed a win to take the division and earn the right to face Prairie champ Wauconda on Thursday, while Stevenson could escape with the title with a mere tie.

And while the game was hard-fought and exciting on both ends of the pitch, the ending was almost anticlimactic, with the game ending in a scoreless tie.

"You have to give them (Stevenson) credit," Warren coach Jim McNamara said. "They wanted a tie and they got one."

Even though the game ended with no score, that's not to say both teams didn't have several opportunities to put one in the back of the net.

Warren's first chance came early in the game as Ian Sarachan broke away from the pack and made a run on Stevenson keeper Brian Dulaney. However, Dulaney moved out of the net and kicked the ball away from Sarachan to end the chance.

That wouldn't be the only time Dulaney would befuddle the Warren attack on the afternoon.

The half ended with Dulaney and Warren keeper Ben Ferrara each making a few saves to preserve the 0-0 score.

But it was just minutes into the second half, the 45th minute to be exact, that Warren would get its best chance of the match. Leading scorer Scott Malagon was fouled in the box, giving him a penalty kick.

With the game, and possibly a conference title on the line, Malagon lined up the kick and fired a low shot, which Dulaney stopped to the obvious dismay of the crowd.

"When I was about to kick it, I saw the goalie leaning left," Malagon said. "But I was told not to change my shot, so I shot it the way I normally would have and he (Dulaney) guessed right."

"He did what he had to do but the keeper made a great save," McNamara said. "He's a good keeper. It happens."

That would be the best chance the Devils would get, but the team did have several shots just miss the net or the crossbar before the match was over.

"We both had chances, but both teams didn't finish," Malagon said.

That's something Warren will have to work on in the last two weeks of the regular season, according to McNamara.

Warren Township High School's Quinton Scott runs through the middle during a 24-14 home game loss to Libertyville.

"We're just looking to refine things the rest of the season," McNamara said. "We're right there, we just need to refine our finishing."

The tie moves Warren's record to 13-1-3 overall, and puts its final Lake division mark at 2-0-3. But the season's not near over as the Devils will be at Carmel, which hasn't lost since Sept. 3, on Oct. 16 at 10 a.m.

FOOTBALL

In one of the most anticipated match-ups in Lake County this season, Warren took on Libertyville with a possible conference title on the line. And it was the Cats, using a swarming defense and powerful running attack, who prevailed, beating the Devils 24-14 last Friday.

The Devils' usually robust running attack was held to just over 100 yards, as the team was forced to pass once falling behind 24-7 at halftime. Warren's scores came on a 15-yard pass from Garren Zerfass to AJ Kegg in the 1st quarter and on an 8-yard jaunt from Mitchell Moore in the 3rd quarter.

"We had a hard time running the ball," Warren coach Dave Mohapp said. "Libertyville has the best defense we've faced all year and they slowed us down and made us do things we didn't want to do."

The Devils (5-2, 2-1 NSC Lake) will host

Lake Forest Oct. 15 at 7:30 p.m.

"We just have to go back to our fundamentals," Mohapp said. "Lake Forest does some things very well, we just need to make every play as perfect as we possibly can."

BOYS HOCKEY

In the season opener, Warren's Varsity Boys Hockey team beat Notre Dame 9-2. Notre Dame trailed Warren the entire game. In the first period, Warren took advantage of three power plays. Dan Torola, Ryan McGaughy and Ryne Korbas scored the three goals, assisted by Ryan Canfield, Dan Torola and Ryan McGaughy. Yet, later in the first period Tony Alo' scored a goal assisted by Torola and Canfield. Warren closed the first period with one more goal by Dan Torola, assisted by older brother, Phil.

In the second period, senior Tony Alo scored an unassisted short-handed goal. However, Warren wasn't done scoring yet. In the third period, Ryne Korbas scored two more goals in the same shift to complete a hat trick. Assisting on those were Mike Walls, Phil Torola and Mike Lavalle. Standouts for the game were Dan Torola with five points, Andrew Spornow with great defensive play and Gaston Callahan guarding the net.

PREPFILES

Scott Malagon

Try playing with a sign on your back. That's what Warren senior Scott Malagon has had to deal with this season.

In '03, Malagon led Warren with 20 goals, earning All-NSC, and All-Lake County honors in the process. More importantly, he helped lead the Blue Devils to a 20-4-3 record and the school's first-ever trip to state.

This season, Malagon has been a marked man as teams constantly harass him and send double teams his way.

"I've been dealing with double teams all season," Malagon said. "I just do my best to break loose and get a score. Mac (Coach John McNamara) and (assistant coach) Doogie (Clark) have taught me move around and know where I'm supposed to be at."

The double teams haven't done much to hinder Malagon this season, as he again leads the team with 16 goals. His team has also thrived again this year, as the Devils currently sport a 13-1-3 record and will enter the postseason as the No. 1 seed in the upcoming Hersey Sectional.

While it may sound cliché, Malagon's secret to success is simple. "I just try to work hard all the time," Malagon said.

McNamara agrees, saying: "He's one of the hardest workers we have. He's been with me for three years and he grows so much as a player every year."

In addition to his prodigious scoring, Malagon also brings leadership to the team as one of three captains, along with defender Mike Armour and goalkeeper Ben Ferrara.

"We both have our roles," Malagon said. "I know how to manage the offense and Mike knows how to manage the defense, so we try to work together. We just want to do whatever we have to do to help the team win."

Bulldogs fall to Grant

By Steve Peterson

Sports Reporter

Now this is what homecoming games are supposed to be all about.

With the exception of a few minutes when Wauconda had gained a 7-7 tie on a short run by QB Andrew Baker and another when top placekicker Anthony Santella lined up for a 52-yard field goal, it was all Grant in a 55-13 win.

Grant gained an early break when Chris Rosado recovered the opening kickoff at the Wauconda 30. Lostrosio scored the first TD, from 11 yards out, and a kick by Pam Staton gave the Bulldogs a 7-0 lead.

Baker's TD run of 6 yards (26 yards for the game) answered it. He also had a 13-yard run and completed a 9-yard pass to Kris Gerke. Wauconda had 126 yards rushing and 7-17 passing for 19 yards.

Cukla snared a 30-yard TD pass from two Wauconda defenders for a 14-7 Grant lead. Santella, whose field goal two weeks ago gave Wauconda its first win in 30 games, lined up for a 52-yard field goal try following an interception by Josh Patterson. The kick try failed, and WHS was never close.

Lostrosio found Cukla wide open and he did the rest on a 67-yard jaunt for a 20-7 Grant lead and the host Bulldogs were off to the races.

Pat Stewart gained Wauconda's second TD of the game, delaying a running clock for the 40-point rule.

Wauconda was on top of the football world just two weeks ago after a 29-game losing streak had ended. The good news is that the WHS squad can finish the season at home with contests against Vernon Hills (1-3, 1-6) and North Chicago.

"We'll be looking for 11 guys who want to play the game," said WHS coach Glen Kozlowski.

GIRLS VOLLEYBALL

Wauconda dropped a non-conference volleyball match to Crystal Lake Central 2-0.

The Bulldogs fell 25-19, 25-18 in the home match.

WHS was led by Jenna Howard with 12 assists and Kristina Shafer was 9-11 in hitting with six kills.

Wauconda had a solid effort in pushing Warren to three games before losing 2-1 in a crossover match.

The Bulldogs fell 25-10, won 26-24 and lost 25-18.

"The last two games we played really well. The girls were committed on defense and allowed Warren to make some mistakes. It was a great team effort," said coach Jonathon Grandt.

recognition of seniors. Wauconda is at the Lake County Invite, hosted by Libertyville and Vernon Hills Oct. 22-23.

"The Crosstown Classic is always a good meet. It gives you a chance to see everyone and where they are at this time of the season," Grandt said.

GIRLS TENNIS

It was a long but productive two days on the tennis court for Wauconda High No. 1 singles player Courtney Mikelski.

Mikelski won the consolation title at the Spirit of the Northwest Conference tournament held at Grant. She beat Grant's Cat Savage, lost to Johnsborg but bounced back to beat Marengo.

At the NSC, she beat Round Lake, Mundelein and Vernon Hills but lost to Johnsborg for a 3-1 day.

"It was a long day, but she played well. She has been one of the hardest workers on the team and a good leader," said WHS coach Melissa Walsh.

Wauconda had 8.5 points in the team standing at the NSC.

Wauconda is at the Highland Park sectional Oct. 15.

BOYS GOLF

Wauconda golfer Bill Wrightson just missed qualifying for his second straight sectional tournament.

Wrightson shot an 82 at the Lake Bluff regional.

"He had a good year, but was a little inconsistent. He shot a 39 one day, then 43. He could compete with anyone, and put the time in the off-season, but he could not make it to sectional for a second year," said head coach Lee Oler.

Wrightson battled for 17 holes to qualify, but a three-putt on the last hole hurt his chances. Wrightson is a senior.

PREPFILES

Nick and Neal Swanson

Neal Swanson had an early start in soccer, even before wrestling. The senior started out before he was 8 years-old, with his brother Nick not far behind. Now Neal is a senior and Nick is a sophomore for Wauconda, NSC Prairie Division champs.

It was Nick Swanson who played a role as Wauconda topped Vernon Hills 1-0 to win the division for the fourth time in five years. He got the ball to senior Jacob Hines, who scored the winning goal after a penalty kick shot.

"Both are talented players. The negative part for Nick is that Neal has a very high work ethic and that is very demanding. I rarely have to say anything to Nick about being in the right place, because Neal will," Stevig said.

Neal Swanson, a former state qualifier in wrestling, is quiet leader on the soccer field. Neal is determined to have a good wrestling season this winter as well, after missing state due to a bad day at sectionals his junior year. "This is my last year, so I want to go out with a bang," Neal said. "You just have to get over it. You can't win every match."

Soccer season starts with the hopes in August. Both brothers played for the Sockers organization before WHS.

"We start the season with soccer camp, then a trainer comes in to work with us. Still, we started slow," Neal said.

Wauconda is 10-5-1 after starting the season with two losses at Rockford. Neal Swanson scored twice and Nick Swanson once in a 5-0 win over Zion-Benton for a win at homecoming.

The Swansons are one of two brother combos. Goalie Mike and twin brother Chris Hernandez is the other pair. Chris Hernandez had a strong game against Vernon Hills, rejecting all shots. —By Steve Peterson

Bulldogs drop homecoming game

By Nicholas Alajakis

Sports Reporter

For Waukegan, the end was near soon after the opening kickoff. Just 1:17 into the game Evanston running back Jerome Daley took a screen pass 45 yards for a touchdown and a 6-0 Wildkit lead. They never looked back.

Despite 13 penalties for more than 120 yards and a late rally from the home team, Evanston (3-3) was able to hold off the Bulldogs (2-5), 35-14.

It looked as if Waukegan may be shut out, until it engineered a drive with half way through the fourth. With 6:30 remaining in the game, Demetrius Butler caught a 26-yard pass from Corey Smith to bring the Bulldogs down to the 19-yard line. On the next play Carlos Martin took a hand off up the middle for a 19-yard touchdown. A Butler two-point conversion made it 8-28.

Waukegan's on-side kick attempt failed, but Evanston soon fumbled and Smith quickly lead the team 71 yards in four plays, capped by a Butler 10-yard touchdown. Butler had another huge day for the Bulldogs, finishing with 7 catches for a 163 yards and a touchdown.

With the score 28-14, Waukegan tried another on-side kick—this time it was successful. But on the first play from scrimmage Smith had his pass tipped, intercepted and returned for a touchdown. It was one of four interceptions to go with Smith's 294 yards passing.

"(The ball) fell on my shoulder...I didn't see it," Smith said. "I turned around and saw (Evanston lineman Gerard Jones) running...I realized it was over."

Waukegan again out-gained its opponent, (375 yards to 322), but for the second straight week, a lopsided score made the game look different. Penalties and turnovers, and botched punts gave Evanston good field position throughout the game. Evanston was also able to capitalize off two costly penalties early that would have given the Bulldogs the ball inside the redzone.

"We dug ourselves in a hole right off the bat," Waukegan coach John Neff said. "It limited some of the things we could do."

The early deficit forced Waukegan to pass a lot, Neff said. The Bulldogs rushed for only 81 yards as four different backs shared handoffs.

"We don't have the type of back where we can run on every play," Neff said.

Injuries and changes in the depth chart have kept the team inconsistent at quarterback too. Smith was placed at QB midway through the season, after the Bulldogs experimented with other choices following a preseason injury to Eric Krueger. His height, (listed at 5-10) has made it hard for him, Neff said, as he is many times forced to drop back a few extra steps to see over the line.

Receivers Butler and Dexter Landry (5 catches, 82 yards on Saturday), have been able to get to a lot of those passes, Neff said, but as Saturday showed, so are opponents.

"Corey had some great pass plays," Neff said. "Some were caught, some weren't."

Despite being officially eliminated from the playoffs, the loss gives the season a fresh start, said senior captain Joe Leccesi, who finished with eight tackles and eight assists.

"It's hard to take," Leccesi said. "But the pressure is off. We need to finish strong. Have fun."

TENNIS

Waukegan's No. 1 doubles team Katie Colver and Grace Ramos took second place at last weekend's Central Suburban South tennis meet. The girls defeated Niles West and Evanston before falling to New Trier in the final.

Coach Larry Zupec said the second place finish is the highest a Waukegan team has placed in recent years.

In the process they also faced some of the toughest competition in the state, in terms of New Trier, Zupec said.

This weekend Waukegan plays in the Antioch tennis sectional.

CROSS COUNTRY

Waukegan's boys' and girls' cross country teams both took seventh place at Monday's Lake County Invitational.

Joshua Cantrell, Matt LaForse and Spencer Rogers were the boys' top three finishers at 31st, 36th and 48th place.

Candice MaGee, Samantha Kamraczewski and Timalyn Garcia were the girls' top three finishers at 23rd, 34th and 42nd place.

VOLLEYBALL

Waukegan defeated Niles West 25-19, 20-25, 27-27, on Oct. 7. In the match Courtney O'Connor had 15 assists. Stephanie Coxon also played well for the Bulldogs with five digs and five kills.

Their next match is at home against New Trier on Oct 19.

PREPFILES

Joe Leccesi

It's hard, Waukegan football coach John Neff says, to put a value on a player like Joe Leccesi.

A casual observer may not notice him at all. He doesn't make long touchdown runs, or acrobatic interceptions. But if an opponent's running back is stuffed at the line of scrimmage, or a Waukegan runner breaks for a big gain, you can bet Leccesi may have had something to do with it.

The 6-foot, 264-pound senior captain has been a three-year starter for the Bulldogs. In that time he has done many things well.

"He's a great kid," Neff said. "He does everything positive."

Leccesi said his positive attitude is something he hopes will rub off on all teammates in the upcoming weeks. If other players take a positive attitude the team, which is already eliminated from the playoffs, may be able to surprise an opponent and play really well.

Leccesi knows it's possible. With the season shot two years ago, the team rallied to in the final weeks of the season to beat New Trier for the first time in years.

That's not to say the losses don't bother him, especially not winning a home game.

"It's hard to take it after all the hours I've put in," Leccesi said.

The hard work is paying off for him on the field individually however.

Leccesi, who has 103 tackles on the year, said he hopes to go on and play football in college. A few schools have contacted him, including the University of Iowa, where he's attended camps.

And opponents have noticed too.

"You number 64?" a New Trier coach asked Leccesi after an 18 tackle game. "Great game, son," he continued. "We had no answer for you all game...no answer."

To that, Leccesi had no answer.

"It's nice to hear," he said.—By

Streit paces Lancers at Region IV tourney

By Matt Pera

Sports Reporter

When two players tie in a golf tournament and head into the necessary playoff, it is usually expected to go two or three holes at the most.

But when College of Lake County golfer Michael Streit found himself in that position at the Region IV Tournament in Byron, Ill., Oct. 8 and 9, it went a little longer than normal.

Streit battled Brian Suchy of Kishwaukee College for seven holes in order to break the tie and earn rights to the first alternate position for the Community College National Finals in Scottsboro, Ala.

The national meet will take place in May of 2005.

The two golfers matched each other shot for shot through six holes when, finally, Streit connected on a par putt and Suchy bogeyed.

"It was a very tense, very tough situation for both golfers," CLC head coach Larry Leon said. "They're both good golfers and they held up under the pressure. There was a lot of stress and both teams had players supporting both golfers."

Streit tallied a 158 in the 36-hole tournament, which was the best score among the Lancer golfers.

CLC placed sixth overall in the ten-team tournament with a combined score of 651.

Blackhawk College won the regional with a 631, which means five members of that team will head to Scottsboro in May.

Adam O'Hoski of Black Hawk College was also the first-place medalist with a score of 152.

CLC freshmen Phil Janik, who finished 2nd overall in the final Skyway Conference individual standings with a 74.6 average, had a tough second day at the regional, scoring an 84. Combined with Oct. 8's score of 79 he notched a 163 overall.

The uncharacteristically high total knocked Janik out of national final contention.

"I was a little disappointed for Phil," Leon said. "He had been our leader all season. I watched his last four holes (on the second day) and I think he just ran out of energy."

Rounding out the regional scores for CLC were Schuyler Michael (165), James Preber (172) and Aaron Montague (172).

The Lancers had closed out the regular season playing their best golf of the year. They won their final Skyway Conference six-team tournament by one point over Waubesa Community College and finished fourth overall in the conference standings.

Leon said his squad, composed of all freshman, improved and adjusted to the college game as the season progressed, which made him optimistic for the post-season.

"I think it took them a little bit of time to get their feet on the ground," he said. "Then we started to pick it up a little bit and finished real strong. That's why I thought we would be contenders at regionals, because we were playing our best golf going into the tournament."

Matthew Thompson a freshmen on the College of Lake County basketball team looks up to check the goal before attempting a shot during the season opening scrimmage games at CLC.

While Streit is not a lock to make the national tournament as the No. 1 alternate, Leon said that each of the past five years at least one alternate has been invited after one of the top ten players either leaves school early or is academically ineligible.

And while he has been told his chances of making nationals are good, Streit said he is not going to get his hopes up.

"You never count on what somebody else says or what happens in the past," he said. "My luck's not that great so who knows. I'm not counting on anything yet until I get that phone call that says you're going."

WOMEN'S VOLLEYBALL

The women's volleyball team won their final Skyway Community College Conference match of the season Oct. 12, beating Morton 3-1 (32-30, 30-25, 30-32, 30-22).

The victory gave the Lancers an undefeated SCCC record (6-0) and raised their overall record to 23-10 heading into the conference tournament Oct. 15-16 in Des Plaines.

Sophomore outside hitter Lindsey Gruber led CLC against Morton with 21 kills and 11 digs before leaving game four with an ankle injury. Fellow sophomore outside hitter Sarah Campbell also had a strong match with 15 kills and 13 digs.

After Gruber went down in the fourth game, head coach Roger Ozima said the rest of the team stepped up in her absence. With a 27-22 lead, CLC scored the final three points of the game to put the match away.

Megan Krizman (ten kills, 400 hitting, five digs, three aces), Jenna Runge (54 assists, 18 digs) and Aubrey Madsen (15 digs, six aces) also had solid showings in the match.

The Lancers will open conference tournament play Oct. 15 against Elgin, followed by a rematch with Morton.

CROSS COUNTRY

The CLC cross country team competed in the Carthage College Invitational Oct. 9.

John Markham placed 47th with a time of 32:36 for the Lancers' best finish.

He was followed by Seth Gaskill (50th, 33:31) and John Ferguson (52nd, 34:53).

Holly Sankey placed 63rd for the women's team with a time of 37:54.

PROFILES

Phil Janik

Whenver College of Lake County freshman golfer Phil Janik stepped out onto a course this past season, which ended Oct. 9, he always tried to clear his head.

His goal was to look at each round and each tournament, no matter their importance, as a normal weekend round of golf with no strings attached.

"I act like I really don't care," he said. "I don't show any emotion if I play well or I play bad. I just keep my mindset the same the whole way."

That mentality worked well for Janik this season, as he finished second in the Skyway Conference standings with a 74.6 average in five matches. He also boasted the best individual score in the conference—a 69 at Stone-wall Orchard Golf Course on Sept. 27.

Janik said he approached that round feeling very nonchalant, joking with the players in his group and playing loose. The approach worked well, as he converted four birdies on the final five holes of the course.

Head coach Larry Leon said Janik's attitude is one of his biggest attributes.

"He's just an outstanding young man," Leon said. "And one thing that is very important with him is his demeanor. It never changes. You can't tell if he's upset or excited. He communicates but he is able to hold the excitement in and that is a key to his success."

Janik finished his season with a 163 through 36 holes at the Regional Finals in Byron, Ill. Oct. 8-9, just missing the cut for the Junior College National Tournament in May.

He said his main goal in the off-season is to improve his play on the greens.

"I just really have to work on putting," he said. "My puts were around 36 (per round) and if I can get my puts to be around 30 that would be great. I would be averaging right around 70 or below." —By Matt Pera
